Delegates Disapprove Plans to Force Action on "Blue Laws"

(By United Press Leased Wire)
LOS ANGELES, June 5.—Petitioning President Coolidge to call a second International Disarmament conference, an emergency resolution was today presented to the board of directors of the General Federation of Women's clubs by Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, Minneapolis, the federation president.

The resolution proposes a conference to limit armament, abolish the use of poison gas and halt airplane bombing in warfare.

Acceptance of the resolution by the convention, which is expected to follow its presentation, to the delegates, "would serve as an important expression by the federation for world peace and ultimate disarmament," Mrs. Winter said.

Broadening its membership provisions, the federation was today on record favoring admission of councils of Jewish women into the clubs' organization. The executive committee approved the proposal, holding that the Jewish councils are "racial and not religious organizations since they do not require a religious test." The report praised the work of Jewish women in "the fields of Americanization, education and philanthropy."

Bobbed hair is an American institution, set above criticism by its widespread popularity, and is safe from attack at the present biennial convention.

Such is the definite impression gained from a sounding out of sentiment, readily expressed, by delegates to the big event.

There have been rumors, weak ones in truth, but none the less audible, that a group of middle-western clubwomen was going to introduce a resolution to the effect that bobbed hair is undignified and unbecoming. Devotees and supporters of the national fad are grouping for its support and seem to be in the majority.

To Oppose Resolution.

Michigan clubwomen have no intention of sponsoring the resolution according to Mrs. Dorin E. Russell, president of the state federation.

"In fact, we will bend every effort to see that no such silly proposal is introduced," she declared. "Because we feel that any resolution deploring bobbed hair would be an insult to the many clubwomen who wear their hair that way."

"Personally, I am in favor of women bobbing their hair. Although I do not bob mine, I believe the style has quite an appeal."

"The clubwomen of America are interested in far more vital matters than bobbed hair," believes Mrs. C. S. Selover, chairman of the resolutions committee. "I would do all in my power to prevent any such resolution from receiving a hearing."

Balk at "Blue Laws."

There is a general impression about the convention halls that

Ludendorff in Rage Over Harsh Words

BERLIN, June 5.—General Ludendorff is discovering that being a deputy in a republican parliament is a far different thing from being quartermaster general of an imperial army.

Apopleptic with rage, the general stalked out of the Reichstag chamber and sought refuge in the bar when Socialists shouted at him during today's session: "Shut your mouth."

Ludendorff probably had not been so spoken to in 40 years and his fury knew no bounds as his reply was drowned in the jeers.

Farm-Labor Senator Charges Value of Produce Has Dropped Under New Policy.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—An investigation by a special senate committee of the alleged deflation policy of the federal reserve board was authorized in a resolution introduced in the senate today by Senator Shipstead, farmer-laborite of Minnesota.

The resolution, which was referred to the audit committee, declared there had been a shrinkage of $50,000,000,000 in the value of farm produce since the board's alleged policy was inaugurated in 1920.

STATE LEADER OF EPISCOPAL CHURCH DIES

(By United Press Leased Wire)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—Bishop William Ford Nichols, of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of California, died at St. Luke's hospital here this morning.

He had been ill for about a month, suffering from an abdominal trouble.

Six years ago the aged prelate was operated upon for a chronic malady and was thought to have been cured.

The ailment reappeared several months ago, however, and after physicians could bring about no improvement, he was removed to a hospital where a second operation was planned.

His condition took a sudden turn for the worse yesterday and last night he sank rapidly, physicians abandoning hope of prolonging his life.

Mrs. Nichols, two sons, two daughters and 14 grandchildren survive.

Bishop Nichols was born in Lloyd, N. Y., June 9, 1849, and early in life decided to follow a church career. He attended several church schools and colleges in the east and was ordained deacon in 1873 and priest in 1874.

On June 24, 1890, he was consecrated assistant bishop of California and became bishop April 6, 1932. He was the author of several religious books.

Lawyers Approve Delhi Bond Issue

Delhi's $60,000 school bond issue has been approved by attorneys for the Citizens' National company, Los Angeles, purchasers of the bonds, it was announced today in a communication received by County Clerk J. M. Backs.

The bonds will be delivered within a short time, Backs said.

Bok Peace Prize Winner Facing Loss of Second $50,000 Payment

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Dr. Charles Levermore of Brooklyn winner of the Bok peace award, probably will have to forego that extra $50,000 he was to get if the senate approved the plan.

Of course, the senate may approve it at some future date but not this session. There is not the slightest chance now. A bill embodying the plan has not even been introduced by a sympathetic senator and that is essential to get the senate's opinion of it.

Levermore has one other chance to get the $50,000 and that is by popular endorsement of his plan in the nationwide referendum. A provision was inserted in the conditions of the award to this effect, possibly in view of the senate's balky action.

The senate investigation of alleged propaganda for the Bok peace plan has completely floundered.

Prosecutor In Chicago Murder Case Rushing Plans For Indictment

CHICAGO, June 5.—A night session of the Cook county grand jury will be held if necessary in order to prevent delay in the returning of indictments against Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, confessed slayers of Robert Franks, State's Attorney R. E. Crowe announced today.

"We want no delay in the return of the indictments and no delay in bringing these murderers to trial," Crowe said.

Crowe declared his intention of speeding up the trial as rapidly as possible. Should indictments be voted this afternoon, they will be returned in criminal court before Chief Justice John R. Caverly early Friday, Crowe said.

Leopold and Loeb will then be arraigned on Monday at which time Crowe will ask that the date for the trial be set on July 15—the earliest date possible under Illinois law.

Darrow, meanwhile, is expected to attempt to delay the trial. The distinguished attorney and orator who will head the $15,000,000 defense believes a fair trial cannot be obtained until public opinion and "mob hysteria" have been cooled by the passing of time.

A startling theory of the murder of young Franks was advanced by a state's witness before the grand jury, it became known. This witness, it was said, told of hearing Leopold confess that he murdered Franks because he knew that under the Illinois law the penalty for kidnapping for ransom was death and so he was taking no additional risk in murdering the boy victim.

Two true bills, according to Crowe's plan, are to be voted—one charging the boys with first degree murder, the other charging kidnapping of Robert Franks for ransom.

Precise for a suit demanding $100,000 damages from Leopold and Loeb was filed in court today by attorneys for Louise Hohly, a Chicago. Although the precise did not make public the basis of the claims, the young woman's attorney indicated it charged the two confessed murderers had attacked her in a motion picture theater three months ago.

Electric Motor Fire Extinguished

"Our place has been burglarized. Send a cop immediately."

This message was received at police headquarters early today from the Hill and Son Hardware company, 213 East Fourth street.

But the store-owners' fears were unwarranted, it developed, as the rear door of the place had been broken by policemen who at 3 a. m. today notified the fire department there was a blaze in the store. An electric refrigerator motor had become overheated, but the damage was limited to the motor only.

Prisoner Falls From Bed; Hurt

A man isn't safe from harm even when he's locked in a cell, according to James Welch of Anaheim, who today was nursing a long deep gash in his head.

Welch, who was placed in jail Tuesday on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, rolled over during his sleep in a top bunk last night and fell to the floor of his cell, striking his head on the iron guides of the cell door. The flesh was cut deep into the bone for more than three inches. The prisoner was taken to the county hospital.

Cranston to Tell Parents at Mass Meet of Night Rides, Drink Tales

"I intend to tell the parents of children in the high school and the junior high school just what I have heard regarding night rides, cigarette smoking, whisky drinking and several other things asserted to have been done by students in the junior high and high schools of Santa Ana," J. A. Cranston, superintendent of city schools stated today in discussing the purpose of the mass meeting he has called for parents and guardians of school children for tomorrow.

Following receipt of several reports of asserted misconduct on the part of students recently, Cranston called meetings for 2:30 p. m. and 3:30 p. m. tomorrow at the Frances E. Willard junior high school and the high school, respectively, at which, he stated, he planned to tell parents of reported conditions in local schools.

GREAT OREGON FOREST FIRES SPREADING

(By United Press Leased Wire)
PORTLAND, June 5.—With the continuation of warm, dry weather, seriousness of the forest fire situation in Oregon today grew to amazing proportions.

Fire fighters were helpless in efforts to confine the flames in Tillamook county timber where the most serious fires were reported. Two Mexican fire fighters have been missing there and some fear has been expressed that they were caught and burned to death.

Serious fires were reported in Polk, Lane and Columbia counties. Fires in Clatsop and Coos counties were reported under control.

No estimate of the loss in green timber has been made, but lumbermen agree it is enormous.

TRUCKEE, Cal., June 5.—Fire on the land of the Crown-Willamette Paper company, near here, which yesterday threatened the town of Floriston, was reported still burning today.

Large forces of rangers and ranchers were aiding townspeople in fighting the blaze. The fire already has burned over considerable acreage, destroying much timber and stands of pulp timber.

A huge wall of water swept down on the coast towns driving vessels on the rocks and swamping many small craft. The German barkentine Lemkenhaven of Hamburg capsized before the force of the wave at Cerro Azul and her captain was drowned. RADICAL CHIEF REFUSES POST OF PREMIER

(By United Press Leased Wire)
PARIS, June 5.—Edouard Herriot, mayor of Lyons, today refused the premiership of France, which was offered to him by President Millerand.

The president of the republic then sent for Senator Millies La Croix and it was understood the latter was offered the premiership. Later, however, it was said the senator's visit merely was for the purpose of consultation.

Herriot's accession to the post vacated by the resignation of Premier Poincare, June 1, had been a foregone conclusion and his refusal came as a surprise.

Opposition of Millerand to the Socialist program on which Herriot would take office and reciprocal opposition to Millerand himself on the part of many of Herriot's followers was believed the real reason for his unexpected refusal of the post.

President Doumergue of the senate and President Painleve of the chamber of deputies met with Millerand at the Elysee today and recommended Herriot for premier. The latter was leader of the radical socialists.

World Flyers Again United As Commander Arrives In Shanghai

SHANGHAI, June 5.—Lieutenant Lowell Smith, commander of the United States Army world flight, arrived at noon today after a successful flight from Kagoshima, Japan.

Lieutenants Nelson and Wade, who arrived yesterday, were waiting for the commander and greeted him affectionately as he came ashore from his plane.

Smith was delayed by an accident in the take-off from Kagoshima yesterday and could not proceed until he had completed minor repairs on his machine.

The commander was enthusiastic when he arrived here.

"Weather conditions are the best we have encountered since the start of the flight," Smith said. "We expect to get under way again Saturday."

The flyers expect to get away early day after tomorrow, their next stop being Amoy.

TOKIO, June 5.—Captain Pelletier D'Oisy was held up in his flight to Japan by a fog, according to messages here today.

The Frenchman took the air from Taikoo, Korea, at 5:20 a. m. to continue his flight to Tokio but was forced to return because of the heavy weather.

Students Frustrated In Daring Attempt to Hold Up Card Game

LOS ANGELES, June 5.—Search for accomplices of Franklin J. Morrison, dead college student bandit, was vigorously resumed today when Ervin Sydney, chum of Morrison, arrested as a suspect in the case established an alibi. Sydney proved that when the hold-up occurred he was at work in a garage, police admitted.

(By United Press Leased Wire)
LOS ANGELES, June 5.—Charged with being the bandit companion of Franklin J. Morrison, college student killed last night during a robbery attempt, a young man was arrested by detectives working on the case today.

Police refused to give his name, but said the youth is a member of a prominent Los Angeles family. He was well dressed and apparently refined. The suspect was rushed to detective headquarters for questioning.

A third youth is sought for complicity in the crime. He is believed to have driven the machine in which Morrison's companion fled after Morrison was killed.

JURORS DELVE INTO CAUSE OF FLAMES

LOS ANGELES, June 5.—Continuing its investigation into the cause of the Hope Development school fire in which twenty-three persons were burned to death, the grand jury today called additional witnesses before it.

Sylvester Votel, world war veteran, the man who discovered the fire and gave the first alarm, was questioned, his handling of the probe declining to reveal the nature of his testimony.

All other matters have been pushed aside and the grand jury will rush the probe, with the hope of establishing responsibility for the blaze.

W. A. Holland, county probation officer, and Mrs. Gene McCracken, psychopathic parole officer, were also to be questioned during the day.

Acting on the report of Fire Chief Scott that the Sawtelle Veterans' home is a fire trap, the Chamber of Commerce is planning to urge the federal government to act at once to prevent a fire tragedy there.

Joint funeral services for ten of the small victims in the Hope Home fire will be held tomorrow afternoon.

FALL HELD TO BLAME IN PLOT

Senator Walsh Scores Sinclair, Doheny and Ex-Cabinet Member URGES SAFEGUARDS FOR PUBLIC LANDS

Long Investigation Into Leases Ends; Minority Report Probable

(By United Press Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, June 5.—The Walsh report, denouncing the naval oil leases as corrupt and illegal, was accepted by the Senate investigating committee today.

Senator Thomas J. Walsh, leading figure in the long and sensational scandal inquiry, was instructed to submit the report to the Senate as expressing the views of the committee.

Only a few changes were made in the original as composed by Walsh, who submitted it to the committee after making it public today.

His recommendations for tightening existing regulations so as to diminish possibility of future similar leases of the public domain were stricken out. The committee decided that this should hold over until a final report is made after pending court actions have been disposed of.

The chief features of the Walsh report are:

Says Law Disregarded

Denunciation of the leases made by former Secretary of the Interior Fall and Harry F. Sinclair and E. L. Doheny on the ground that they were made in "flagrant disregard to law."

A severe arraignment of Fall for accepting "loans" of $25,000 from Sinclair and $100,000 from Doheny, with an attack upon former Secretary of the Navy Denby charging dereliction of duty in failing to investigate the leases before affixing his signature to them.

A suggestion that hereafter no lease of government oil lands should be made without competitive bidding and then only in case the lands are suffering from drainage by adjacent properties.

A requirement that hereafter leases should be passed upon by the comptroller general.

A charge that the leases are "corrupt" without mentioning names of those against whom corruption is charged but aiming it clearly at the half dozen principals in connection with the leases.

Scores Use of Arms

An attack upon Fall for "using the Marines to chase from Teapot Dome certain squatters who were contesting Sinclair's rights. Walsh calls this "an outrageous and unjustified use of the armed forces of the United States" and declares a civil suit should have been instituted to chase off the squatters.

Denial that the leases could be justified on the ground that there was heavy drainage which was diminishing the supply of oil in the ground.

Denunciation of Sinclair for having paid millions of dollars to "irresponsible" claimants "with more or less shadowy claims."

Most of the thirty-six printed pages of the report deal strictly with the testimony developed from a legal standpoint. It refrains from passing judgment in most instances and merely sets forth the facts without interpreting them. Walsh, however, said:

Raps Probe Opponents

"A disposition is evidenced in some quarters to dismiss or overlook the very suggestive circumstances shown in the hearings indicating corruption in connection with Sinclair and Doheny leases, the flagrant disregard of law and the unwarranted assumption of authority that attended their execution, the abandonment of the settled policy of the government evidenced by them, to inquire as to whether they are or are not excellent bargains from the standpoint of the government."

"These efforts invariably arriving at or pointing to the conclusion that they are such, are obviously designed to divert attention from or to overcome the effect upon the public mind of the features of the transactions."

"Not only was the Teapot Dome lease awarded to Sinclair without competition, but he paid a fabulous price to procure the elimination of a potential rival."

"One seeking a fair contract from the government does not buy

New Treatment for Varicose Veins and Ulcers

Swollen veins are dangerous and often burst. Sufferers are advised to get a two-ounce, original bottle of Emerald Oil (full strength), at C. S. Kelley Drug Store (mail orders accepted) and start to reduce the veins and blemishes at once.

Physicians recommend Emerald Oil, as it is used in hospital practice and a small bottle will last a long time, because it is very concentrated and a little goes a long way. Apply night and morning with a soft brush as directed until the swelling is reduced to normal.

So marvelously powerful is Emerald Oil that swollen glands and even goitres disappear when used steadily.

off his competitor; neither does he when he secures it, ordinarily submit to blackmail in connection with it; nor does he, while negotiations are pending, accommodate the awarding officer with loans."

Aims At Publishers
This reference is believed to be in connection with testimony that Sinclair paid J. Leo Stack and Fred O. Bonds of Denver, a million dollars for an alleged claim which Walsh states was worthless.

In this phase Walsh also points with significance to the fact that Bonds is editor of a Denver newspaper which attacked the leases at first but when Sinclair promised to pay the money, "the attacks of the newspaper thereupon ceased."

"The proprietor of a rival newspaper upon a claim even more shadowy, if, indeed, it can be called a claim at all, got $92,500 out of the Pioneer Oil company as his share of the monies yielded up by Sinclair," Walsh continues.

Walsh based his main attack against the leases on the ground that the executive order issued by President Harding transferring jurisdiction of the naval reserves from the navy department to Fall in the interior department.

Illegality Apparent
"This order is counter to the well understood policy of Congress," Walsh said. "Its illegality ought to have been recognized by everyone concerned in its promulgation. The idea that the president may, by his fiat transfer powers reposed in or duties imposed upon one cabinet officer to another is intolerable and indefensible."

Referring to Denby, Walsh said the former navy secretary had sanctioned the leases because he had been told the reserves were being drained.

"He was unable to recall who told him so," Walsh said, "but he assumed full responsibility for the policy."

CHURCH YOUNG FOLK WILL GATHER AT 'V'

More than 125 young persons, representing Christian Endeavor societies and Epworth leagues of many of the churches in the city, were expected to be present at a social affair to be given at 8 p. m. at the Y. M. C. A. building, with the united societies of Christian Endeavor and the Y. M. C. A. as hosts, according to Miss May Belle Thurston, chairman of the united societies entertainment committee.

Each society will be called on for a "stunt," either musical or athletic, Miss Thurston said, adding that the purpose of the meeting is to have all members of the societies get acquainted with themselves and, in turn, with the Y. M. C. A.

The following societies have been invited by Miss Thurston, who added that all young folk of the city were invited: Epworth Leagues of First Methodist, Spurgeon Memorial and Richland Avenue Methodist churches; B.Y.P.U. of First Baptist church; Christian Endeavor societies of First Presbyterian, United Presbyterian, Reformed Presbyterian, Christian and Zion Evangelical churches.

Dome lease to Sinclair, Walsh said.

"The negotiations leading to the lease were conducted in secret. There was no competition. No explanation whatever is found in the record for pursuing the course that was followed."

Outlining the evidence that Denby sent Fall $100,000 in cash in a black satchel by his son and the admission that Sinclair through his counsel, J. Zevely, gave Fall $25,000 Walsh says:

Hits Fraud in Loans
"Your committee ventures no opinion as to whether the transaction was in fact a loan or whether it might more appropriately be otherwise designated. Though the committee refrains from characterizing the transaction, it does not hesitate to condemn it as in the last degree reprehensible on the part of all concerned in it. The essentially corrupt character of a loan made under such circumstances requires no comment."

"It would be impossible for an officer to accept a loan of such an amount or perhaps any amount under the circumstance of obligation."

Walsh also mentioned the $10,000 contributed by Sinclair to the Republican campaign fund and the subsequent addition of $75,000 to help make up the party deficit. He also pointed to the contribution of Doherty to both party funds.

Walsh admitted in the report that he had failed to establish that there was a conspiracy of oil operators at the Republican convention to select a "compliant" secretary.

In concluding Walsh stated that the committee may later attempt to get additional evidence when the courts have determined when Sinclair, Fall and others will be required to testify.

SAYS WALSH DESERVING OF HIGH HONORS.
ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 5.—"I think the Democratic party should show its appreciation of Senator Walsh by giving him the highest honor within its power."

This was the comment of Senator Burton K. Wheeler today, after reading a resume of his Montana colleague's report to the oil committee on the lease investigation.

"The report is correct, as the facts are known to me," I believe Senator Walsh is the greatest constitutional lawyer in the senate."

an established fact in the near future."

"We are not going to accept the sophistry that because our prohibition laws are violated therefore they should be repealed or weakened."

"It is impossible to open too many avenues of education of children or adults."

"As long as there must be divorce, there should be uniformity in the laws concerning divorce."

The afternoon and night sessions today will be given over to the department of press and publicity, with Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., coast publisher, and Rupert Hughes, novelist and motion picture director, to be introduced. Mrs. Hughes will speak at tonight's meeting.

NEED AUTOS FOR TOUR OF U. S. CLUBWOMEN

Only four Santa Ana drivers responded to the Chamber of Commerce's call for twenty automobiles to supply this city's quota of machines needed for the tour of Orange county, Saturday, by 200 delegates to the biennial convention of women's club at Los Angeles, J. C. Metzgar, secretary, declared today.

The Chambers of Commerce of Fullerton, Anaheim and other districts in the north part of the county will send cars to Los Angeles to get the visitors. Cars from Santa Ana and other sections south of the river will meet the contingent at Anaheim at 9:30 a. m., and drive the party through the south half of the county. The itinerary will include a drive to Santa Ana, inspection of the new Eboli clubhouses here and a trip to Laguna Beach, where the guests will be entertained at noon at a barbecue to be provided by the Chamber of Commerce of the resort.

Arriving at Orange at 4 p. m., the delegates will be transferred to cars from the north part of the county and driven back to Los Angeles.

"Why are not the husbands of Santa Ana clubwomen volunteering use of their cars?" Metzgar queried.

"The tour will offer an excellent opportunity for advertising Santa Ana and Orange county and I sincerely hope that car owners will come forward and make it possible for the Chamber to meet its quota."

Parent-Teachers

The P. T. A. meeting of the Roosevelt school was attended by a group of interested mothers to hear Dr. Waffie talk on "Birds." The subject for the afternoon was "Humane Education." Each mother was given a slip of paper bearing a message of fair play, and kindness toward every form of life, also sketches given of the kindly attitude of Lincoln and other great men toward animals.

Dr. Waffie's talk brought out the human side of the bird life, their habits, song and human traits. Miss Alice Folsom sang "I Hear a Thrush at Eve" by Cadman and "Two Little Magpies" by Wells; she was accompanied by Miss Mabel Krause. Mrs. Nell D. Winslow gave a report from the state convention and spoke of the fact that the national organization has changed its name from Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers' Association to Congress of Parent and Teachers and that four new departments had been added, literacy, child-development, music and art.

knowledge will have the future revealed to them by Miss Josephine Crookshank; those who have a sweet tooth may obtain ice cream from Miss Kate Benton; the mysterious "black jack" will be in charge of Miss Thelma Patton; pressing over a fish pond where every angler may secure a fish will be Miss Della Hampton.

On the second floor will be a famous crazy house whose secrets remain unexplored but which promises excitement aplenty according to its keepers, Miss Nina Mae Middleton and Miss Annie Tarver. And in addition to the different concessions will be a most entertaining group of vaudeville sketches planned by Miss Mollie Mosher.

Fraternal Aid Union

Fraternal Aid union members are reminded of the meeting at M. W. A. hall Friday night where according to the leader, Mr. Johnson, something unusual is to be presented by Frank Harris and his group of program committee folk. The refreshment committee also promises something good and M. R. Carter, organizer, will be present. It is suggested that members with names of prospective members, have those names ready to hand the organizer.

Suggestions for the next six months' campaign will be made.

S. A. Women's Club

Entertained by Mrs. J. H. Northrup at her North Broadway home, members of Santa Ana Woman's club remarked upon the wealth of vivid dahlia which their hostess employed with decorative effect.

They were happy too, to greet their president, Mrs. F. H. Finney who was with them after an absence from several meetings. In the routine opening exercises, Mrs. Lovisa Leslie, president-elect, led in the collect while Mrs. Henry Diers led in the singing of the opening ode.

Biennial attendance was discussed and Mrs. Finney and her secretary, Mrs. H. Clemmons, signed identification cards which would allow members to attend the sessions now in progress at the Philharmonic auditorium, Los Angeles.

Attractive new year books were distributed and Mrs. Diers reported the club's financial condition to be most flourishing. Miss Mattie Ritchie was tendered a vote of gratitude for her artistic work in arranging the flowers which the club sent the Eboli society upon the occasion of the dedication of its new clubhouse. All the flowers were given by Woman's club members and Miss Ritchie, daughter of an active member, arranged them.

Decision to hold the annual picnic at Birch park June 24, met with the approval of all and plans for the picnic dinner at noon will be made by the refreshment committee. Mesdames Henry Diers, chairman, Frank E. A. A. Schlamm, Walter Meyers and H. C. Ebel.

Mrs. William Blakie was welcomed to membership. The question of flowers for biennial convention decoration came up and Mrs. C. T. Wells, chairman of the committee from the club, announced that a call had come for yellow flowers also for pansies and similar small blossoms for Tuesday, June 10. These are to be sent to the Temple entrance at the auditorium by 9 o'clock, Tuesday morning. If any member knows of anyone going in that day or late the previous afternoon that would be willing to deliver the flowers, she would be conferring a favor by getting in touch with Mrs. Wells, Mrs. Finney or some other club executive.

With business disposed of the program was presented under the direction of Mrs. Marlan Brett and Mrs. R. Ruth Tiffany. Mrs. Brett opened the program by presenting a paper on the "Chester Confessions" in which she outlined the business transactions between Turkey and an American corporation in which valuable oil lands were concerned. Turkey's repudiation of actions relative correlative to surrendering deeds to the lands after learning that the corporation was not government protected, formed the subject matter of a paper both interesting and instructive.

Mrs. Tiffany took hearers to far places also in her dramatic description of the "Bagdad Railway" and the important part it played in the World War. In her thoughtful, scholarly manner, she traced the growth in importance of the railroad which had been warred for by hordes of eastern races long ere its strategic position caused it to be desired by Europe and opened the way for three terrible years of the war.

At the close of the highly educational program, Mrs. Elizabeth Mills, beloved "club mother," presented the newest member of her group, Mrs. E. E. Knight, Mrs. Finney, with the club's gifts, a handsome silver sandwich tray, as a memento of a year's pleasant associations. Mrs. Finney made an appreciative little talk in turn.

The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. A. Vandermaast, 125 South Birch street, Tuesday, June 17, when county officers including the president, Mrs. E. E. Knight, will present the program, musical features of which will be arranged by Mrs. Herbert M. Sammis, county music chairman.

Speaking of the topic "Woman's Place in the Home," Mrs. White emphasized several forceful points, including:

The Studebaker Light-Six!

More are sold than of any other six in the thousand-dollar price class!

More because—it is the sweetest, smoothest-running Six you ever drove. Its specially designed offset valve motor, its machined crankshaft, its four big crankshaft bearings, its perfectly precision cylinders, pistons and reciprocating parts are the reason.

More because—no other car in its price class shows such obvious indications of quality—genuine leather upholstery, a hand-tailored top and curtains, carefully selected details of equipment, lustrous baked enamel finish.

More because—its 40-horsepower motor, its correct gear ratio, its beautiful balance and low center of gravity, make it like lightning in the "get-away," never falling on a hill, and effortless under a full load on any reasonable road.

More because—it is backed by a great service organization, immediately and willingly accessible.

More because—its recognized used car value protects you with the lowest possible depreciation when you come to trade it in.

To prove its goodness by performance we will lend you a Light-Six any day this week—come in and ask for it.

'FUN SESSON' DENTIST CHAIR SET IN TRIAL OF WHITTED

KIWANIS CLUB FEATURE

"Razzed" and "jazzed" by an assorted impromptu program developed by O. A. Haley and John Knox, with Haley officiating as chairman, members present at yesterday's luncheon of the Kiwanis club at St. Ann's inn today had covered from sidechairs that were incident to a hilarious session.

Known to club members as the "Irish wit," and credited with having, contributed, by fines, more than any other one member to the club's fund for assisting underprivileged children, Haley did not disappoint members who anticipated that his reign as chairman would be featured by the imposition of fines in a general campaign to increase the fund.

The "Haley session" closed with R. R. Miller, president, assessing the chairman $12 for free publicity he had secured during his reign as master of ceremonies for the well known make of automobile he distributes in Orange county. Haley voluntarily increased the amount by $3, asserting that the fun he had and "the publicity he had put over" was worth $15.

At times gasping for breath in his whirlwind "razzing" of club members, the chairman called to his assistance the Grigsby orchestra, which evoked "jazz" tunes for the clubmen while the chief conspirator recuperated his strength and his "wind." The numbers by the orchestra were fully in keeping with the spirit of the meeting, and club members with "educated feel" found it difficult to keep their seats.

William H. Miller, industrial secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and Chris Ema, local tailor, were presented to the club as "baby members."

L. R. Crawford, E. T. Mateer, Edward McWilliams and the Rev. W. L. H. Benson were named as a committee to develop a golf team from the membership.

Behind closed doors, the court battle that is expected to convict or acquit Dr. R. E. Whitted, Santa Ana dentist, of a statutory charge, was waged today, the court room being temporarily turned into a dental suite, for partial re-enactment of alleged scenes on which the charge is based.

During a rigid cross-examination of the prosecuting witness, a 17-year-old Santa Ana girl, Attorney Lecompte Davis of defense counsel sought to procure an illustration of details in which a dentist's chair figured. C. N. Mozley, chief deputy district attorney, objected and the prosecution then demanded that a dentist's chair be brought to the courtroom. This was ordered by Superior Court Judge F. C. Drumm.

The girl witness was then excused from further cross-examination until the dentist's chair could be installed, and the state proceeded to call its next witness, a girl companion of the prosecuting witness.

The long, drawn-out task of selecting a jury was concluded at 3:30 p. m. yesterday after both sides had used all of its peremptory challenges.

The following were sworn in as jurors:

George Shoemaker, R. B. Cook, W. P. Webb, L. L. Allis, W. S. Corson, H. E. Strothoff, S. A. Sheeley, H. H. Robertson, David Fairbairn, A. A. Hoke, D. F. Allen and A. R. Mahr.

At the request of the defense and with the consent of the prosecution Judge Drumm today cleared the court room of spectators.

Santa Ana, June 5, 1924.

Editor Register:—I wish to commend most heartily your timely and excellent front-page editorial on "buying-at-home". The principle outlined is vitally important to the growth of Santa Ana and cannot be stressed too much.

I believe it is thoughtlessness, rather than deliberate intention that prompts people to spend their money in "foreign" territory. Most of us are motivated by self-interest and, if we can be made to realize that it is to our ultimate advantage to buy at home, we surely would be lacking in civic pride not to do so.

I could quote you numerous instances of people who bought away from home with the thought that they were getting better values and I could analyze those same purchases and prove where they could have been better made right here in Santa Ana. Loyalty to Santa Ana merchants is loyalty to Santa Ana, and only through such loyalty can ultimate growth be accomplished.

May I suggest that your editorial be reprinted on cards suitable for window and store display? Please enter my order for half a dozen such cards.

THE LAND OF FORGOTTEN MEN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Big Chris Larson, Alaska cannery foreman, seeking boat connections for the outside world in a launch, is driven by a storm into a small cove, where he meets the Remittance Man. He had not met the Remittance Man before, but he had heard of him. The latter was a seafaring fellow, who had been a seaman, and was now a landlubber. He had been a seaman for many years, and was now a landlubber. He had been a seaman for many years, and was now a landlubber. He had been a seaman for many years, and was now a landlubber.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

Big Chris turned toward the door. Captain Jim smiled dimly when the Remittance Man got up, too.

"You are no sailor," he commented.

"Not that part of my education was neglected. But any one who has done as much fancy balancing to keep his feet as I have in the last year will be a steady man in the tops! I'll go out and be in that big Norwegian's way."

The mellow, easy voice, some way heartened the man at the wheel. His pale blue eyes frankly studied the handsome, clean-cut face, now plainly revealed in the light of the pilot house. This southerner had wasted the birthright of a powerful physique. He was a tall man, extremely broad of shoulder and big of bone, and a careless glance might have attributed to him even such physical power as that of Big Chris.

There was no iron in those big, loose muscles.

There was still, in his face, the lingering image of what had unquestionably been a general allowance of real, manly good looks.

The captain's gaze was quick and penetrating tonight, and he could see back into the man's past; he could see the man of which this could be the image. Far away, and not long ago, he had been a youth of the greatest personal charm: well-bred, perfectly mannered, affectionate and good-natured; amiably weak yet chivalrous, quick to sympathy, kind and friendly to inferiors but recognizing no superiors; a certain well-loved type of southern gentleman of an old school.

Curiously enough the man was clean-shaven, and the only explanation was that the lingering image of self-respect that kept him from crossing his blood with the Aleuts also kept him personally well-groomed. His beard, however, would have been decidedly brown; his shock of curly hair was light brown.

"All right," Captain Jim pronounced at last. "Go out and help Big Chris all you can."

The Remittance Man turned in obedience, and the tilting, wave-washed deck brought him to sobriety quickly. The danger, the night and the stars, most of all the eternity of plunging waves on which the ship was borne awakened an odd, dark mood, stranger to him in all the reckless, happy years of his youth. Some way he saw this North of his in a new light. For the first time since he had come here, he was sober enough to catch the real tone, to feel the spirit of these desolate seas and the eerie, savage, rock-bound shores they washed. He had never thought about them in particular before.

He had simply lived in a nightmare world of drink, and all the stern magic of this land he passed him by. But he was receptive to it tonight.

It was such a mood as could easily hurl him into tragic regrets if he had let himself go—if he had not long ago forsaken all regrets. In the first place there was no particular act of his—not even the tragic outcome of the launch ride on the Savannah River—to which he could directly attribute his downfall; it had really been a combination of circumstances, many of which had been beyond his control.

He had been weak, true enough—drinking rather too much than was good for him, but no more than other men of his class, and not one-tenth as hard as he was drinking now in forgetfulness. He had been jealous with little cause, but this was also a human trait, and was simply that—for all his suspicious beginning, his care-free youth and the wonder of those first ineffable months with Dorothy—the cards of fate had been stacked against him. So it was neither wise nor fitting that he should yield himself to regret. There was no use of fighting with fate. He was nothing to win. He could never go home. He must always be a fugitive from the world of men. He must stay here till he died.

It seemed to him now that this ultimate end was nearer than he had ever dreamed. There was a strange sense of finality about this voyage.

The wind was like a whiplash out of the northwest, stinging his eyelids, buffeting him as he braced himself on the tilting deck, seeking every little entrance through sleeve and collar into his vitals. In the loneliness of his mood it did not occur to him at once that his fellow watchman might be likewise suffering. He only knew the truth when Big Chris paused beside him, cursing.

"God, I wish I had my coat," he said. "Like damn fool I left it in that native's shack—"

The Remittance Man gazed at him in quick amazement. It was true: Chris's heavy mackinaw shirt alone saved him from the lash of the cold.

"Good Lord, I wish you'd take mine," the Remittance Man answered promptly. "I'm sweating like a horse—"

He saw the look of incredulous amazement in Larson's face. "Yes, you are—"

"I am, no fooling. I guess it's the liquor—besides, I've got a caribou shirt underneath." He quickly threw off his heavy seaman's coat and held it out. "Wear it a while, anyhow—we're about the same build and it will fit you a lot better for it back as soon as I feel chilly."

Big Chris muttered, but slipped N. Main.

the garment on. He could not doubt those ringing words; otherwise wild horses could not have forced the coat across his brawny shoulders. Presently he turned away, leaving this man of cities almost unprotected in the blast of the wind.

Why he had acted as he did, he could not have told you. The drying liquor had chilled him, rather than warmed him, nor was there any hint of cold-defying caribou hide under his outer garment of heavy dannel.

He could not exist long in such cold as this. The frost seemed to penetrate his vitals. The dawn was breaking over the sea, incredibly after this night of storm and darkness; but it brought no mercy from the cold. Either he must leave his watch and seek shelter below, or else perish on the deck.

He turned, at last, toward the pilot house; but it was the strangest thing in all his strange life that he had little real desire to go. It was not that he was vitally needed on the deck. Rather, it was an outgrowth of the night's dark mood; he had seen the end toward which he was drifting all too plain.

Incidentally, it should be pointed out that German fascism is a vastly different thing than the Italian variety and quite another proposition than the so-called fascist movement in the United States. The German brand is largely rowdism, largely the outpouring of a swell-headed mistake and misled idea that Germany wasn't defeated in the war and that it is again about ripe for a "kaiser," a new war.

It has been called "playing at soldiers." There is much in this idea.

In the event, the youngsters engaged in giving Germany a new place in the sun, or what is more likely, a new war, intend to convert the more phlegmatic northern states.

Rout Communism. In Halle, the fascist vowed there should again come a "mighty Kaiser of the Reich." They swore not to rest until this had been accomplished. They found that their ideas had made good gain in the province Saxony (not to be confused with the Saxony of Saxony) where only three years ago, communism was rife.

The writer saw communism snuffed out in mid-Germany at the hands of a thorough-going police force in 1921. At that time, it would have been suicidal to hang out the black-and-white flag of monarchy in the streets of Halle; it would have been the height of folly to stage such a parade of helmeted generals, colonels and boy scout soldiers.

But just a little over three years later, the Fascists staged their "Deutscher Tag" in Halle. Not a single Republican banner was shown; nor was the red flag of communism in evidence.

Some of the display of monarchism was probably out of fear. But the enthusiasm was high, and the proof that Halle is no more "the red heart of Germany" was clear.

Stabilize Currency. Halleites explain that as a natural development of the times, the industrial situation is better. There is no sliding scale; there is stable currency and work. The German is accustomed to the Kaiser idea, doesn't mind taking orders and seems to enjoy "Verbot." Hence, he is slumping back to his old ideas now that hunger and financial decay no longer haunt him and drive him into the arms of radicalism.

It is little skirmish in Halle's outskirts. But that there were a handful of dead and wounded was more accidental than intentional. The reds showed no real pep. They had not organized for a real counter demonstration.

And, Halle did not know until the late evening hours of that memorable Sunday that there had been a skirmish between the reds and the police. Moreover, one familiar with middle German police methods is safe in assuming that there was a little more force used than the situation actually required. In other words, the police wanted to teach the reds a lesson and put them "in their places."

This explained, too, their locking of 1000 communists in a popular park-hall in a suburb from noon-time to one o'clock the following morning, on the flimsy pretext that this was necessary to prevent further clashes.

Make Big Gains. The fascist had things their own way in the "red heart of Germany" that day in reality. And this caused them to push their plans for turning Prussia and Saxony into fascist camps.

They are making some ground. Hitlerite uniforms now show in the streets of Berlin. This never happened until this year.

Noisy fascist pursue their propaganda in certain restaurants; now and again they hold meetings in tended to stir up another otherwise unenthusiastic northern folk.

FASCISM MAKES BIG GAIN IN GERMANY

BORLIN, June 5.—German Fascism is planning to push over their northward from its birthplace, Bavaria, until it conquers Saxony and Prussia.

It made considerable progress in this direction with "Deutscher Tag" demonstration in Halle, the once "red heart of Germany." Halle succeeded in blurring the government into permitting the demonstration, while forbidding labor's counter shows, and having seen how well it "got away with it," fascism now intends to visit Germany with more of its public exhibitions.

Incidentally, it should be pointed out that German fascism is a vastly different thing than the Italian variety and quite another proposition than the so-called fascist movement in the United States. The German brand is largely rowdism, largely the outpouring of a swell-headed mistake and misled idea that Germany wasn't defeated in the war and that it is again about ripe for a "kaiser," a new war.

Stage and Screen

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS. WEST END—"The Lone Wolf," with Jack Holt and Dorothy Dalton. WALKER—"One Law for the Woman," with Cullen Landis.

YOST—Vaudeville and "Conductor 1492," with Johnny Hines. TEMPLE—"Men," with Pola Negri.

JOHNNY HINES CLOSES AT YOST TONIGHT. Johnny Hines, the inimitable, is coming once more in screen form to make us feel the joys of good hearty laughter, via his latest, comedy success, "Conductor 1492," scheduled to close at the Yost theater tonight.

In his particular sphere of acting, Johnny Hines holds the enviable position of being without a rival. He goes into a picture with all the zest and vim of an athlete participating in an international contest. Johnny Hines represents the clean-cut comedy, rough and ready humor that is the delight of the American boy and gets many a laugh from his father and mother.

His acting has always been full of buffoonery, skylarking and quips that sends his audiences into fits of laughter. His facial expressions, an art in themselves, express more than scores of words in titles could hope to do.

In "Conductor 1492" Johnny has a wonderful opportunity to display his ability. He takes the part of Terry O'Toole, a young Irishman just arrived from his native country, bent on fame and fortune.

SANITARY BOARD MEETS AT BEACH. LAGUNA BEACH, June 5.—Tuesday night the Laguna Beach sanitary board had a regular meeting at the Chamber of Commerce office.

The speaker of the evening was J. E. Calkins, engineer representing the Elrod Engineering company of San Dimas. Mr. Calkins has had a great deal of experience in installing sewage systems, and in his speech stated that the Elrod sewer system, in his opinion, was the best in existence. This sewer system is entirely new in California but it has been installed and used in many of the mid-western cities.

Mr. Calkins has recommended this installation very highly, and has made arrangements with the Laguna Beach sanitary board to have Mr. Elrod meet with them at an early date. Mr. Elrod will go into further details and explain the principle to those interested.

L. F. Mallow, who has recently taken over the lease on the Murphy confectionery, is a recent resident of Graham, Texas, and reports that the Elrod sanitary system was installed in the city of Graham about two years ago and it has been found highly satisfactory in every way. Mr. Mallow stated that prior to the installation of the Elrod sanitary system the sanitary condition at Graham presented a very serious problem. This has been entirely eliminated, through the installation of the Elrod sanitary system and the board of health of that city, and people are highly pleased.

Mr. Calkins further states that this installation is a great deal cheaper to install than the system which was considered previous to this, and after the installation is completed no engineer is needed for its operation, as it is entirely controlled by electric motors. The only thing the attendant will be required to do is to oil the motors and keep them in good condition.

At this meeting the sanitary board authorized a notice to be published, advertising the sale of the Laguna Beach sewer bonds, the date of sale being June 17. At this date the bids are to be received by the secretary of the Laguna Beach sanitary board.

ONE LAW FOR THE WOMAN

AT WALKER TONIGHT. The thrilling rainstorm sequences in "One Law for the Woman" which closes at Walker's theater, were more thrilling for Charles E. Blaney, producer, Cullen Landis and the staff of mechanics employed on location than they had planned.

In these sequences Cullen Landis, who has the leading male role, is expected to mount a horse and make a dash for the open country. The scenes were shot at night and high powered lights mounted on motor trucks thrown on location to provide enough light to photograph the action.

The rainstorm was coming with driving force against the players and caused Landis to squint as he mounted the steed and made a dash toward the lighted trucks. He was expected to shoot between the camera and truck; but instead he dashed into the truck and was thrown from the horse with such force that he lay dazed for a minute.

POLA NEGRI TELLS HOW TO KEEP WELL. "Every week I set aside at least one day which I devote to exercise," says Pola Negri, star of "Men," now showing at the Temple theater.

"On that day, I start early in the morning and am thoroughly active until evening. Sometimes it is golf, sometimes riding and sometimes swimming which attracts me but I make sure, whatever it is, that I exercise thoroughly and use all my muscles."

"One day each week is not sufficient to keep anyone really fit, however, and for this purpose I make use of exercises which any drill sergeant can tell you. For ten minutes every morning after my bath and each evening before retiring, I work with Indian clubs and dumbbells. This daily exercise keeps my muscles from becoming stiff so that I never feel the effects of what I do on the one day I set aside for strenuous sports."

"I have discovered and frequently make use of a very simple thing during the day which I find is helpful. When I begin to feel weary or slack through too great concentration upon my work, deep breathing revivifies the whole system like a cordial."

Mississippi Lady Says Black-Draught "Greatly Relieved" These Symptoms and She Has Used It 20 Years.

Starkville, Miss.—"I have been a user of Black-Draught for about twenty years," recently said Mrs. C. E. Buntin, who registered for the first time this year to vote in a county election, is hale and hearty, in spite of her 71 years, and is still active in the duties of housekeeping.

"I used Black-Draught first for constipation," continued Mrs. Buntin, "I would feel dull, stupid, and have severe headaches, even fevers, had an uneasy, tight feeling in my stomach."

read quite a bit about Black-Draught, I began using it and soon my bowels acted regularly and I was greatly relieved. I used it every once in a while for about eighteen years.

"About two years ago I found I was having indigestion, a tight smothering in my chest, then severe pain, especially after eating sweets. I commenced taking just a pinch of Black-Draught after meals and by doing this I could eat about everything."

"I gave Black-Draught to my children for colds and headaches. I can certainly recommend it."

Black-Draught is safe, easy to take and reliable. Costs only one cent a dose. Try it.

Quiet Country Drive Leads to Gay Party At Country Home

When Miss Ruth Dripps suggested a quiet evening last night at the home of Miss Isabel Anderson, it seemed natural to suppose the rapidly approaching wedding dates for the two June brides-elect, would offer them ample entertainment for the evening, with trousseaux and wedding plans to discuss.

Also it seemed quite natural to Miss Anderson that her guest should suggest a short drive, more-over as they drove over the beautiful roads to Lemon Heights, it was quite the expected thing that they drop in to greet Miss Dripps' sister, Mrs. James Utt whose home has frequently offered its welcome in exactly the same manner to the two members of Santa Ana's high school faculty.

But last night there was a slight difference. For as soon as the two girls entered, it was to be greeted by a group of laughing friends, gathered at Miss Dripps' invitation with the connivance of her sister, to surprise Miss Anderson.

The attractive home was given an unusually festive appearance by the lavish use of summer flowers. Tables were arranged for bridge and at the supper hour were centered with beautiful little ferns carefully potted. There were prize awards to the holder of high score at each table.

Miss Dripps assisted by her sister, Mrs. Utt, Miss Ethel Smallwood and Miss Virginia Stewart, served a delectable little supper at the close of which she presented a huge tray to the honor guest—a tray bearing articles of pyrex and other ware for kitchen use, besides towels, flower bowls, trays and countless other pretty and useful gifts, showered by the interested guests.

These included in addition to Miss Dripps and her helpful sister, Mrs. Utt, Mesdames Robert Northcross, Edward M. Nealey, Edith Thatcher, Fred Dodge, the Misses Lucie McDermott, Frances Batten, Dorothy Dresser, Annie Anderson, Lulu B. Finley, Margaret Tubbs, Virginia Stewart, Laura Davis, Ethel Smallwood, Jennie Lasby, Margaret Baker, Mary Harris and Mabel Whiting.

Missionary Society

The Congregational Woman's union held a very enjoyable all-day meeting yesterday in the church parlors. In the absence of the president, Mrs. W. B. Tedford, Mrs. E. M. Nealey presided. A lively business meeting occupied the morning hours. At noon a bountiful lunch was served.

At two o'clock the missionary department held its regular monthly session. Mrs. A. Beales led an inspiring devotional service. Miss Alice Plummer finished the review of the study book "The Child and America's Future." This book is one of great interest to all who are engaged in the preservation and training of children and Miss Plummer had chosen the most important lessons in her presentation.

Mrs. Charles Johnson, accompanied by her son Avery, sang a beautiful solo, "Little Boy Blue," by Florence Buckingham Joyce. To an encore she graciously responded with "Ever Near Me," by Jerome. Congregational national societies and their different functions were clearly defined by Mrs. L. M. Smith. Mrs. Crose in a blackboard exercise, told what the work of the jubilee fund is accomplishing in missionary fields. Master Avery Johnson closed the program by rendering with much expression a piano solo "The Rider Story," by Robert Schuman.

The women's missionary society of the United Presbyterian church held the regular meeting Wednesday afternoon in the church parlors, with the president, Mrs. William Smart, in charge. Mrs. Graham led the devotional service. It was decided to send a Christmas box to Mr. and Mrs. Guthrie in the Sudan, the gifts for the box to be brought to the July and August meeting. The gifts must not be too heavy. Mrs. Graham reported that two barrels of clothing were packed and sent to a mission station in Arkansas.

The program for the afternoon was in charge of Mrs. John McAuley, who was fortunate in securing H. K. Lui, native of China, who is now attending college at Fremont. He gave a very interesting talk on his life in China, for which a vote of thanks was extended him by the society. Many beautifully embroidered scarfs were shown in connection with the talk.

During an enjoyable hour, the hostess committee, composed of Mrs. McAuley, Mrs. Graham, Mrs. Will Hatch, Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Fouts served rice cakes, Chinese candy and iced tea as the perfume of incense was wafted through the rooms.

With Miss Mildred Cook as hostess at her home, 314 South Broadway, the Young Ladies Missionary society of the United Presbyterian church held a thoroughly enjoyable meeting Tuesday night with Miss Mary Henderson in charge of the program.

Current events were treated of by Mrs. Mary Warren and Miss Jane White after which Miss Sadie McConaughy led in devotionals. The program topic "Materialism, Reaction and Liberalism" was introduced by Mrs. Jeannette Johnson and discussed by Miss McConaughy, Mrs. Bert Porter and Miss Mabel McFadden.

Following the very interesting and instructive program, a social hour was enjoyed during which Miss Cook assisted by Miss Mary Anderson served appetizing refreshments to the twenty-six guests present.

Santa Ana Daughter Returns Home For Her Wedding

Seldom has St. Ann's Inn offered so beautiful a scene as it did last night when a former Santa Ana girl, born in this city and trained in the city schools, returned here for her wedding, a formal affair of extreme smartness held last night at the Inn.

Miss Marie Gregg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Gregg, now of Anaheim, was the bride, lighting her torch to Herbert Oelke, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Oelke, also of Anaheim. The wedding was held in the great lobby of the Inn where palms and ferns were banked as an effective green background for countless baskets of summer blossoms, and the lovely flower effect of the bridal party.

Piano and violin offered a musical background, a delightful recital being presented by Miss Ruth Armstrong and Elwood Bear who at 8 o'clock, swung into the stirring rhythm of Lohengrin's wedding march as the bridal party entered.

Miss Gregg, in an exquisite imported gown of hand-embroidered Brussels net, wore a long bridal veil sweeping from a chaplet of orange blossoms. She carried lilies of the valley and orchids and entered on the arm of her father, William M. Gregg.

Dainty flower tints were suggested by her bridesmaids, the Misses Gwendolyn Block of Whittier, Lorraine Hittins and Betty McLuttre of Pasadena and Dorothy Wilson of Alhambra who each wore a girlish taffeta frock in pastel tints and carried pink sweet peas and ferns.

Miss Eulalia Carleson of San Francisco as honor maid was gown-d in apple-green crepe georgette and carried bride's roses. The youthful ringbearer, Master Robert Scove, in white, carried the rings on a satin pillow and with him was Josephine Hammes, dressed in ruffled pink taffeta who scattered rose petals in the pathway of her cousin, the bride.

Mr. Oelke was attended by his brother, Carl Oelke, as best man while the quartette of ushers included Vernon Gregg, Ralph Gregg, Dick Crawford, Arthur Coons, all prominent young men of Anaheim where the bride-groom is engaged in the fumigating business after having served several years in one of the Anaheim banks. Mr. Oelke furthermore, has an enviable World War record, having enlisted at the outbreak of the war, served in France and now being, in addition to his Legion affiliations, a member of the famous "Forty and Eight."

His bride, following her course in Santa Ana High school, was a student at the Cumnock School of Expression and also at Broad Oaks and her bridal attendants were all drawn from the large list of her school friends at Broad Oaks.

The young couple exchanged their vows before the Rev. Thomas Holmes Walker, pastor of the Anaheim First Presbyterian church, and immediately after the ceremony, led the way to the dining-room where the same cool and comfortable refreshments were given by the fern and palm decorations with low baskets of flowers centering the tables where a delectable wedding supper was served.

The new Mrs. Oelke tossed her bridal bouquets into the group of guests, young people standing around her and the fact that it was caught by her brother's fiancée, Miss Dorothy Wilson, was taken by the guests, (125 in number) as an augury of the approaching wedding of Miss Wilson and Vernon Gregg.

Mr. and Mrs. Oelke left on a honeymoon trip to the Grand Canyon, the bride traveling in a smart outfit of black and white, her little crepe suit, hat and all accessories, emphasizing the popular color scheme as did a handsome cloak of black velvet with ermine collar. Upon their return they will make their home at Anaheim.

Delphian Circle

A few changes have been noted in the meeting places and hours of the chapters of the Delphian circle, scheduled to meet tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock with their respective hostesses.

The chapter which usually meets with Mrs. Ella Campau or, in her absence, with the leader, Mrs. Terry Stephenson, will meet instead with Mrs. Alice Hill Hatch at her Mortimer street home.

Again the chapter which meets with Mrs. Decker, will disregard the morning hour and meet instead at noon with Dr. Mabel Vance Tremaine at her Santa Ana canyon home where a pot-luck luncheon will be enjoyed, with all former members invited to join in the affair.

All Delphian members are anticipating the final general meeting of the year, scheduled for Saturday afternoon, June 14, when Mrs. Angus J. Crookshank will open her home at Rancho Aliso and a happy social affair will follow the regular program beginning at 2:30 o'clock.

Daughters of Veterans

Meeting Tuesday afternoon in G. A. R. hall, the Daughters of Veterans initiated one new member, Mrs. Helen McArthur and held a very interesting business meeting when details of the previous year's trip to Westminster were told by the ten members who made up the party.

The Westminster Boy Scout troupe was a gift from the whole tent and appropriate ceremonies were staged by the scouts.

The tent had prepared eighteen beautiful wreaths for Memorial day and also reported 180 bouquets distributed during the month and forty-one sick calls made.

Aid Society

A very interesting meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of the First M. E. church was held in the church parlors Wednesday morning, when Mrs. A. M. Leonard led the devotional, and Mrs. Bruns presided behind a friendly bouquet of sweet peas.

Dr. Betts gave an interesting report from the official board on the proposed improvements of the church auditorium. The members have decided to try some other way of raising money than the usual bazaar that is always held in the fall. They are going to ask every woman of the church to earn a dollar between now and fall.

Calumpit Camp

Calumpit camp, U. S. W. V., held its regular monthly business meeting Tuesday night with a good attendance and much business of importance transacted.

A total of twelve recruits were admitted by the following comrades mustered in: R. J. Richardson, W. A. Settle, Charles C. Kinslow, Clarence C. Jarvis, E. R. McClure, C. R. Johnson, Charles E. Dixon, department adjutant, acted as mustering officer.

The state convention of the Department of California will convene in Chico, July 7, 8 and 9. Quite a large delegation of comrades and auxiliary members will attend from the local camp. Arrangements are under way for the next social night, which may be a welter bake.

Memorial Day services were well attended by the comrades. Much credit is due the committees appointed for that purpose, composed of Comrades Cooper, Isbell, Dresser, Marknelder and others.

Quite a large delegation of the camp and auxiliary will attend the Community play, "Three Wise Fools," in which their comrade and commander, H. G. Miller, will take a principal part.

Young Girls Welcome Merry Gathering of School Friends

Such a happy party as was enjoyed Tuesday afternoon at the Archie V. Herr home on North Ross street when the two young school-girl daughters of the home, the Misses Vivian and Claire, greeted some thirty-five of their school friends.

All the merry games dear to youth were planned for by the mother of the young hostesses, Mrs. Herr, assisted by a little group of teachers, Miss Mary Coffman of Jefferson school and Mrs. Edith Thatcher and Miss Annie Anderson of Frances E. Willard school. Most of the games and contests were staged on the lawn making it a truly out-of-doors affair although the home, gay with vari-colored summer blossoms, offered a cool retreat where iced punch was served.

As the afternoon waned and refreshment hour neared, the young people formed in line and were served with dainty pink and white cake, ice cream and other dainties, with even the napping reflecting the decorative colors. Gay snap favors yielded each one a bright apron or cap which added to the merriment.

As the young people bade their hostesses a reluctant adieu after so happy an afternoon, each was presented with an amusing game as a favor.

The guests included the Misses Lucile Erskine, Grace Middlebrook, Geraldine Cole, Carmelle Swain, Elva Cook, Marguerite Lentz, Lillian Niemann, Frances Tappan, Bess Marie Simmons, Margaret Stien, Frances Alsop, Reta Martin, Emma Tannenbaum, Helen Hendricks, Harriet Brackett, Ruth Ferris, June Spray, Dorothy Ramsey, Winona Humphrey, Zelma Beemer, Lula Berge, Leah Kirker, Katherine Robbins, Nonene Jenkins, Peggy Warburton, Jessie Warburton, Miss Anderson, Miss Coffman and Mrs. Thatcher.

Boy Scout Move Lauded by Judge

SACRAMENTO, June 5. — Addressing the Rotary club on behalf of the Boy Scout movement, Superior Judge J. F. Pollen declared that "nothing is as important as the training of our successors."

The Boy Scout movement is the answer to the question. But it is not the entire solution. There is still a missing link, and it is up to the business men to bridge the gap.

The first repeating watch is said to have been suggested by a Constantinople physician in 1642.

STIFF TEST GIVEN STUDENTS HERE GOING TO COLLEGE HAS ABILITY TO THINK AS MOTIVE

Sixteen high school and junior college students of this city today were aware of the fact that colleges of the West are making entrance requirements more strict, following a three-hour psychological examination given them here yesterday by Miss Harriet Brown, representative of Stanford university examiners' committee.

Miss Brown's faith in the worth of the test used was affirmed by her during an interview in which she stressed the value of giving a pre-matriculation test to students hoping to enter the university.

The tests are greatly improved over early ones. Miss Brown indicated, as she spoke of the increasing tendency to test a student's all-around ability and his power to think before he gets to college. No students will be allowed to enter Stanford, she said, who cannot satisfactorily pass this test.

Ability to Think

In discussing the test she was giving yesterday, Miss Brown showed how it was designed to give a real analysis of a student's ability to think. For example, the student was given a printed paragraph to read. Immediately he was expected to answer questions on the paragraph which would test his ability to get the meaning from what he had read, draw conclusions and reason logically.

"Psychology tests today are so prepared that they do constitute a fair test of any student's ability," Miss Brown said, "and I believe this test is a fair way of eliminating students from university registration who would certainly fail later."

"Experts in test preparation have worked out the reactions normal students should make to certain questions and have designed the questions."

"The test for Stanford contained a large number of arithmetic questions, and many of those were problems in fractions."

No Catch Questions
"Tests should not contain catch questions. This test is aimed to tap the general fields of information a high school student should have at the conclusion of his senior year."

Students expressed themselves as being satisfied that the test was a fair one and a real test of their thinking power. Miss Brown will grade the questions herself and will file the results with the Stanford examiners' committee through which students who fail will be notified.

H.S. GIRL GETS TWO TROPHIES FOR ART

Miss Katie Best, sophomore at the Santa Ana high school, today was awarded two fine trophy cups for art work done in the past year in the Junior Register.

At an assembly period at the school Jack Fisher, cartoonist here, presented to Miss Best the cup offered for the best cartoon submitted by a high school student of the county and printed during the year in the Junior Register. Fisher also presented to Miss Best the cup offered for the best example of commercial art submitted by an Orange county high school student.

In making his presentation Fisher touched upon the fact that Miss Best's work had been spoken of very highly by three Los Angeles artists, particularly by Julian Harrison, prominent artist, who designed the interior decorations for the Hollywood Egyptian theater.

Harrison said that if Miss Best continues to work with the ambition which has marked her artistic endeavors so far, a brilliant future awaits her as an illustrator. Fisher announced that he would give another cup in the Junior

Register next year and urged all students who intend to enter the contest to begin their preparations on drawings to be entered in the competition.

At the same assembly, Allen McDermott and Fred Johnston were awarded medals as the winners in the D. A. R. historical essay contest. The medals were presented by Mrs. Alice Hatch, regent of the D. A. R. The boys wrote on "The American Pathfinders."

Following the presentation, a one-act melodrama, under the direction of Ernest Crozier Phillips, was presented by the junior college dramatic class. The title of the play was "The Clod" and the following had parts: Hazel Kinsell, Horace Perkins, Albert Maddox, Paul Reid, Carl Warner, Vice Principal W. F. Clayton gave a travelogue illustrated by slides.

They will also go to Niagara Falls and will take a steamer from there to Boston, via the St. Lawrence river. Gives 'Limousine Vamps' Edict to Avoid Santa Ana

Miss Grace Hamilton and Mrs. Catherine Abbey, sisters, known in police circles here as Sacramento's "limousine vamps," today were out of jail and were privileged to go anywhere so long as they avoided Santa Ana.

This freedom was granted them late yesterday, when, amid loud walling on their part, City Recorder W. F. Heathman sentenced each to serve ninety days in jail but suspended sentence on condition that they leave the city immediately, which they did in their expensive automobile.

Patrolman O. D. Brothers testified that his two prisoners accosted him Tuesday night at Third and Spurgeon streets and attempted to flirt with him.

Patrolman W. C. Antoine told the court he had received complaints from men who had been accosted by two women whose description tallied with that of the prisoners. Both women sobbed that they were on their way to San Diego to visit their mother who was dying of apoplexy. They said they asked several men a street direction and that their remarks were misunderstood.

will visit friends. They will come home via Vancouver and San Francisco.

ANNOUNCE DATE OF NEW STORE OPENING

Carpenters and painters today were rushing into shape the room at 216 East Fourth street, formerly occupied by Livesey's, for the opening June 15 by Rapp and Tindall of a new clothing and shoe store.

The new firm will carry a complete stock of clothing, furnishing goods and shoes for men, women and children.

The room is being redecorated. New fixtures will be installed. Glenn M. Tindall today said that the stock would consist of all-new merchandise.

Tindall, who came here from Kokomo, Ind., and H. B. Rapp, who is from Frankfort, Ind., have interests in a chain of fourteen stores in Indiana. Buying representatives in New York and other centers will make purchases for the local store, according to Tindall.

Decide On S. A.
"Rapp and I came to California in March looking for an opening for a store in our line," said Tindall. "We visited every city of importance in Southern California and decided to make our business venture in Santa Ana. Santa Ana is a clean, growing city, and this fact was impressed upon us during our investigations."

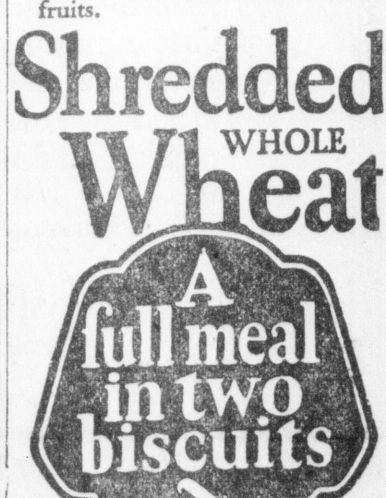

Both men have completed arrangements for establishing a permanent home here. Rapp is residing at 1120 North Olive street and Tindall has taken an apartment in the Nash apartments on North Broadway.

Talented Musician
He formerly was assistant supervisor of music in the public schools at St. Louis, Mo., where he was active in musical circles. While at St. Louis he was organist and musical director at Lafayette Park M. E. church, presented a series of lectures on musical subjects at the public library there, staged musical plays and directed orchestra concerts with various orchestras, including the St. Louis symphony, which then was under the direction of Max Zach. In addition to his activities at St. Louis, Tindall later was connected with the Haywood vocal studios of New York City. He also was a director of music in the high school in the latter city.

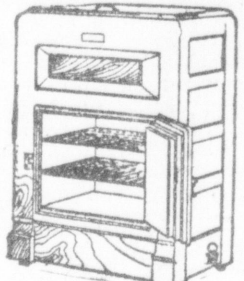

He is a member of the American Guild of Organists, plays the oboe, piano and pipe organ, and has written articles on musical subjects which have appeared in various musical and educational periodicals.

FIRE INSURANCE MEET DETAILS TO BE TOLD

Charles W. McNaught, secretary of the Orange County Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance company, today was prepared to report to the directors of the organization, at 2 p. m. tomorrow, the more important actions of the twenty-third annual convention of the state association of farmers' mutual fire insurance companies held last week at Lodi.

In the election of new officers for the state association, C. B. Messenger, Los Angeles, was chosen president; F. H. Stiles, Tulare, vice-president; Fred C. Cromer, Los Angeles, secretary-treasurer and delegate to the national convention.

$5000 Asked as Damages for 3 Hours in Cell

Three hours said to have been spent in the Fullerton jail by Frank Nevares of that city, who claimed that he was falsely and maliciously charged with burglary by A. B. Corona, another Fullerton citizen, should cost Corona just $5000, according to a damage suit for that amount on file today in the superior court here.

Nevares alleged that his reputation was damaged by the charge and by his imprisonment, so he demanded that Corona foot the bill.

According to Nevares, Corona caused his arrest June 13, 1923, on a charge of having entered a Fullerton building to commit burglary.

After being held in jail three hours Nevares was released under $25 bail, he said. Subsequently the district attorney's office dismissed the case in Justice William French's court for lack of evidence, according to Nevares.

Seek to Regain Title in Motor Station Crash

The lease held by the Dixie service station organization upon the site of its station on West Chapman avenue, Orange, was attacked today in a suit on file in the superior court here by owners of the property, who seek to quiet title as against the lease.

Today's action is said to be one of the developments following the crash of the Dixie enterprise with the filing of criminal charges against its promoters, including President John Saxon Porter. Porter and other officials are now being sought on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Plaintiffs in the title suit are Paul Kogler, J. Kogler, H. J. Kogler, Eva Kogler, Esther Kogler and Mary McGuire.

S. A. ORCHESTRA TO CONTINUE PLAYING

Indications that the Santa Ana Symphony orchestra will be well prepared for the concert season beginning next fall, were seen here today when it was announced that the organization would remain intact during the summer, and would continue rehearsals.

"During June," Conductor D. C. Clanton said, "we will continue rehearsing once a week. In July and August we will rehearse once every two weeks and in September will resume our usual winter schedule."

Find Doors to Six Stores Left Open

Santa Anans sometimes do their part to permit burglaries, according to City Marshal L. Claude Rogers, who today announced that policemen during the night found doors open at six downtown places of business.

The establishments were the Russell printing shop, Salvation Army hall, Otto Quandt real estate office, Grand Central market, Temple theater and the Alexandria billiard parlors.

CONSIDER RADIO IN PLANNING OF HOMES

"When it comes to progress, Santa Anans certainly are leading all others, especially in the planning of their homes and apartment houses," H. Newton Thornton, local architect and admitted "radio bug," declared here today.

"Not only do the people here demand the very latest patterns in architecture," he continued, "but they insist that all minor details be given careful attention, such as making special arrangements for radio equipment."

"Some suggest specially designed built-in cabinets for the radio sets, and these cabinets should be situated as near as possible to the 'lead-in' from the aerial."

"Of course these small matters will in no way affect the general plan of the building, but you'd be surprised at the large number of requests now being made to the home builders and planners to be sure to arrange for the installation of radio equipment."

There is Strength in Every Tablet of This Newer Form of Iron

One dose often helps common ailments to arise, your blood and revitalizes your worn-out exhausted nerves—it is a newer form of iron, like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach. It is so prepared that it will not injure the teeth nor disturb the stomach. It is ready for almost immediate absorption and assimilation by the blood while some physicians claim metallic iron which people usually take is not absorbed at all. If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of this newer form of iron—three times per day, after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained.

NOTE—The manufacturers of this newer form of iron known as Nuxated Iron are thoroughly reliable since its introduction it has reached the stupendous sale of over 4,000,000 packages annually, and it has been used and highly recommended by former U. S. Senators, Members of Congress, Judges of U. S. Courts and many physicians. We are able to guarantee that if you do not obtain still even greater results than you expect from Nuxated Iron the manufacturers will promptly refund your money.

NEW SCHOOL IN NORTHWEST OF CITY SOUGHT BY GROUP

Development Organization Plans Discussion of Problem Tuesday TO OUTLINE PROGRAM

Committees Are Named to Investigate Section's Improvement Needs

While the natural trend of development in Santa Ana is compelling the city to install more and larger water mains and additional sewer lines, and to widen and extend paved streets in all parts of the city, the necessity for parks and more schools today continued to confront local officials again.

A bond issue of $150,000 for enlarging the present schools, constructing new buildings and purchasing school sites, favored at a recent election here, will not include the northwestern part of Santa Ana in the program outlined for the expenditure of this money.

As a result of this, according to L. E. Martin, head of the West-Northwest Development and Improvement association, persons residing in the northwestern part of the city are clamoring for a school in their vicinity.

Named Chairman

W. B. Whitson has been appointed chairman of a committee to decide if the requests for a school are justified, and if so to suggest the proper time for a campaign for a school and to ascertain how the project is considered by the school board. Recommendations are wanted also concerning the present Mexican school in the northwest part of the city as it is said the immediate vicinity of the school is occupied only by white persons.

An extensive program is to be outlined by the association for improving the streets of the city. Paving, widening and extending the thoroughfares will be considered in every phase, it was said.

John Estes has charge of a committee which will study the needed improvements of various streets and which will make recommendations.

Manufactory Doubles Factory Size

The Giles Manufacturing company, successor to the P. R. & V. company on Santiago street, has enjoyed such a great expansion during the few months of its existence that it has become necessary for the new firm to double the size of its foundry.

At present a temporary structure of canvas extends from the main building of the plant and in this cool, half-open structure fifteen or twenty workmen may be seen daily, carrying huge dippers of molten iron which is poured into moulds for stove castings and machine castings.

Begin Paving of McFadden St. On East Side Main

Street improvements are progressing rapidly in Santa Ana. The Steele Phinley Construction company today began the paving of McFadden street, between Main and Halladay streets. The surface will consist of asphaltic concrete poured to a depth of six inches.

Grading is in progress on South Flower street between Fairview avenue and Edinger street, where the firm of Oglesby and Dahl is preparing to pave with concrete to a depth of six inches.

HOOSIER JOINS BOOSTERS FOR SANTA ANA

Santa Ana has gained a real booster in the person of Charles Guard, who has just moved here from Muncie, Indiana.

"I always thought Californians were exploding a lot of hot air when I heard them brag about this country down here," Guard confidentially told a Register reporter. He continued:

"Now I am convinced that none of the stories about Santa Ana was the least bit exaggerated. I am

PROPER USE OF WORD REALTOR EXPLAINED

Term Applicable to Those Brokers Belonging to Nat'l. Board, Claim

"All men and women who sell real estate are not 'realtors,'" This declaration was made today by J. Wiley Harris, president of the Santa Ana Board of Realtors, in pointing out the frequent misapplication of the word "realtor" to those engaged in the selling of real estate.

"The word is misused by the public and very frequently by newspaper men who are not familiar with the membership of realty boards sufficiently for them to know definitely which dealers are entitled to the name of realtors," Harris said.

He added that the word is applicable only to brokers who are members of a local board which is a constituent member of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

In the June issue of California Real Estate, the official publication of the California Real Estate association, C. N. Chadbourn of the Minneapolis Real Estate Board discloses that he originated the organization of real estate boards. He recounts also the origin of the word realtor. He writes:

Name Applied to All

"Some thirty-seven years ago the better class of real estate dealers in Minneapolis formed a real estate board. To this board have been admitted only those real estate men of known integrity and capacity. There are others, none too capable or reliable, who have never been admitted to membership, but the term 'real estate man' applied to them all."

"One day, twelve years ago, a newsboy thrust under my nose a sheet displaying the glaring headlines, 'Real Estate Man a Defaulter.' The real estate man in question proved to be some obscure speculator with desk room in a back office somewhere, but by his disgrace, in a certain sense he had besmirched every man in the business."

"Then I pondered, 'Why should not the real estate board confer a title which would designate to the public who are its members in good standing?' Following this suggestion, I finally hit upon the title 'Realtor.' This was adopted by the Minneapolis Real Estate board which about a year later transferred it to the National Association of Real Estate boards. That organization has now grown to include boards in five hundred cities in the United States and Canada."

Definition is Told

"The word is defined in the association's by-laws as 'an active member of a local real estate board which is a constituent member of the National Association of Real Estate boards, who is bound by its rules and adheres to its code of ethics.' A similar definition appears in Webster's International dictionary."

"The legal ownership of the national association to the title was established by a suit which was brought by the Minneapolis Real Estate Board against the Northwestern Telephone company. This resulted in an injunction against the company, preventing it from using the title in the telephone directory in connection with the name of anyone not a member of the board."

"The Illinois State department of education and registration has

INCREASE HERE CONTINUES IN 'PHONE USE

Company Has Difficulty In Keeping Pace With Rush of Santa Ana Orders

Reporting a gain of fifteen new families who ordered telephone service last month and an additional twenty-six phone customers during April in Santa Ana, E. S. Morrow, manager of the local branch of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, today stated that his company was endeavoring to keep pace with the growth of the city.

A steady increase in the number of telephones installed in Santa Ana homes is shown in the following table:

Year	Telephones
1910	1310
1920	2267
1921	3060
1922	3562
1923	4170
1924 (May)	4428

"Every now and then I hear someone remark that the typhoid epidemic early this year and the hoof and mouth disease quarantine caused hundreds of families to pack up and get out of the state," Morrow stated, "but our records show that we have taken out only a few phones and we have installed a large number of lines for the steady stream of newcomers. Even now we are finding it difficult to install telephones fast enough."

LOCAL SHOE STORE TO ENLARGE ROOMS

Sidney Glass, owner of the Katerina shoe store, this city, today revealed plans for enlargement of his store and installation of a modern front at 209-11 West Fourth street. The improvements, it was said, will cost approximately $5000.

Procuring a lease on the room now occupied by the Lion Candy kitchen, Glass today was developing plans for remodeling that will throw both rooms into one, doubling the floor space of the present store. This work will begin within the next week or ten days.

A modern front, with a lobby recessed twenty feet, will be one of the features of the improvement. The stairway located between the two storerooms will be moved to the east side of 209, offering a new entrance to the rooming house above the stores, Fuller said.

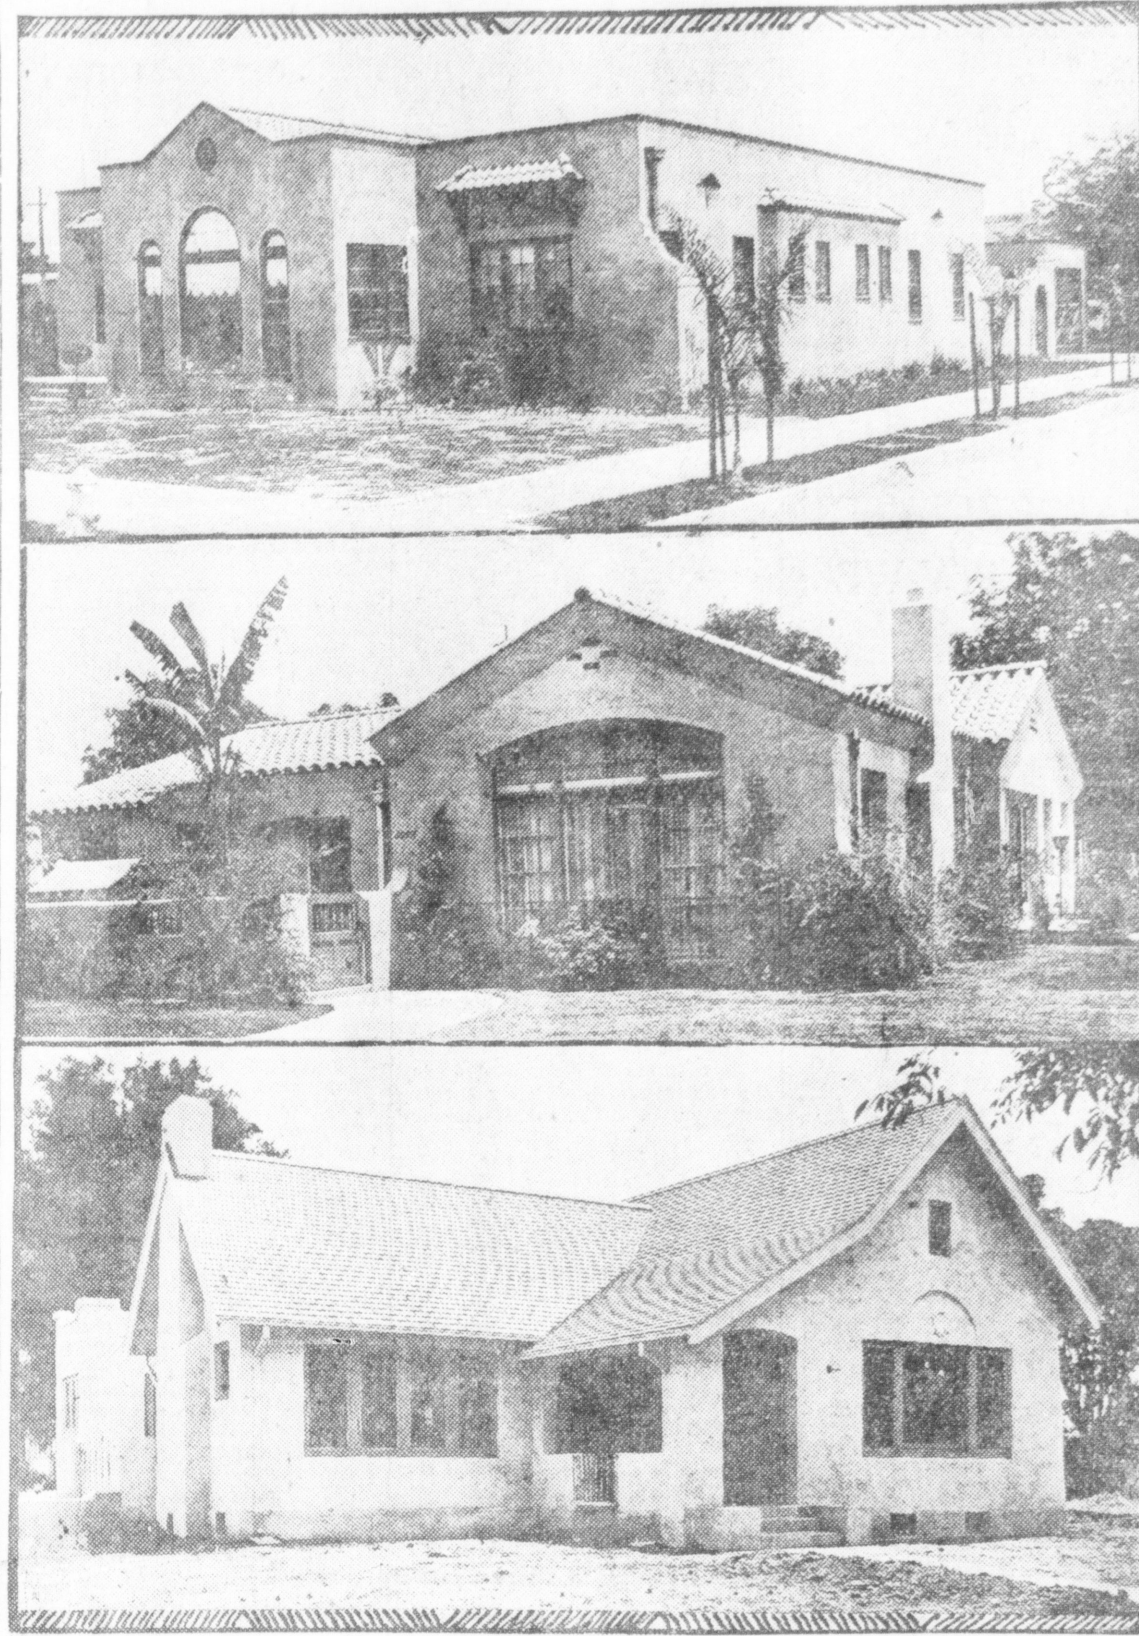

Telephone Chief Buys Balboa Home

E. S. Morrow, local district manager for the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, today had completed negotiations for purchase of a summer home at Balboa.

Paying $7000 for the property, he has come into possession of the cottage of Horace Little of Upland, located at 201 East Bay Front.

S. A. HERALDED AS BEAUTIFUL HOME CITY

Better types of construction is marking building operations in Santa Ana, according to contractors and architects. Here are three residences on North Broadway, two of which have recently been completed. The third now is under construction. At the top is the home of District Attorney A. P. Nelson, located on the northeast corner of Seventeenth street and Broadway. Of Spanish architecture, the dwelling cost approximately $12,000. In the center is the pretty Spanish type residence of W. B. Tedford, vice-president of the Farmers and Merchants Savings bank. The residence is on the northeast corner of Twentieth street and Broadway and was built at a cost of $15,000. In the lower picture is shown the English style residence of Dr. C. D. Ball, assemblyman, being erected on the southeast corner of Twentieth street and Broadway, at a cost of $12,000.

288 PUPILS IS MESA SCHOOL ENROLLMENT

According to a statement made here today by R. P. "Costa Mesa nearly doubled its

Unexcelled Resources Give City No Alternative But To Be Great, View

SOIL RICHNESS TOLD

Agricultural Returns Show Orange County Fifteenth In United States

BY NORMAN HENDERSON (Register Development Editor)

Boosters often have said that the United States is the greatest nation in the world, that California is the best state in the nation, that Orange county is the most desirable for industries and for homes in the state, and that Santa Ana is the leading city of the best county in the best state in the best nation in the world.

This form of logic may not make Santa Ana the greatest city in the world, yet it does not exclude it from being the best. That Santa Ana is destined to become a great metropolis is not based merely on speculation and the so-called hot air expounded by real estate agents, is proved by the undisputed fact that Mother Nature herself already has presented this city with many unexcelled resources and advantages and Santa Ana therefore has no alternative because nature has pre-ordained this a great city.

Gifted with a natural harbor with six miles of available dock space, only nine miles distant, placing two-thirds of the world's population at the door of Santa Ana, the city, it is claimed, has yet to take advantage of the gigantic commercial possibilities available through the development of this means of creating a great industrial metropolis.

Nature has placed vast deposits of oil underground nearby for the inhabitants of Santa Ana and vicinity, and it has given this district a soil which produces most abundantly the finest orange crops in the world.

Santa Ana is the county seat of one of the smallest counties in the state and yet, competing with some 4000 or more counties in the nation, Orange county in 1920, when government statisticians published values of crops and livestock, ranked fifteenth in the entire United States with the agricultural returns valued at $26,635,748. Two years later the combined oil and soil production, including livestock and poultry, was estimated at $92,258,000. The grand total production for the last five years, according to the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce, was $405,420,170.

In other words, Santa Ana is the leading city in a county which is the smallest in area in Southern California and which is the richest county in soil products in America.

Yet development is hardly begun in this vicinity, boosters declare. In addition to all of these resources and natural advantages, Santa Ana is blessed with an incomparable climate. Beautiful mountains, natural parks and ideal beaches in close proximity to this city make Santa Ana most desirable for lovers of nature. Beautiful homes, palm-lined boulevards, and well-planted private yards make the city a Garden of Eden.

With ideal labor conditions, cheap land served by three transcontinental railroads and excellent paved highways, cheap power, close proximity to 85 per cent of the nation's raw products and great markets, and all the other requisites of large business enterprises, the in-

Gypsies in Town

Scores of people in Santa Ana rent houses. Have you ever noticed how restless they are? They are always looking at houses to rent—always ready to move to a house that seems a little better bargain. One day, perhaps, they find a house at a reasonable rental which suits them exactly. They are happy in their good fortune for a month—then comes the news that the house has been sold. It was too attractive to remain rental property.

You who rent houses, you gypsy in town, you know the truth of this. It has happened to you. You would like nice furniture, but do not buy it because you know it won't fit after your next move. You love flowers but say, "Why plant, for the next tenant who will probably let our flowers die."

Live in a home of your own, surrounded by flowering beauty, filled with comfort and contentment. Do not longer be a gypsy in town, a searcher who knows not the road to contentment, build a Home of your own.

school population during this past year, and, because of the added expense, it was necessary for the county board to close the school two weeks earlier than the other county schools," he said.

The gain at the Costa Mesa school has not been unusual until this year, according to school records. In 1921 there were 112 children in schools there. In 1922 this jumped to 152 students at the end of the year. Last year there were 187 who ended the year in school, while the figures for this year show there were 288 pupils, or a gain of more than 54 per cent over last year.

"The big gain at Costa Mesa this year costs the county more than $6000 this year than any previous year, in teachers' salaries and in new equipment that we found necessary to buy," Mitchell said.

At the beginning of the school year there were only five teachers at the Costa Mesa school. Eight teachers and 105 new desks now are in the building. Teachers' salaries in this school increased the cost $4,200, while new equipment bought and installed during the year amounted to more than $2,000, according to Mitchell's figures.

writing all of my friends in the East and North to believe every thing they hear about Southern California, and then they won't get half of the truth.

"It cost me $180 for coal during the past seven months for keeping my home in Indiana half comfortable.

"My gas bill during the winter averaged $10 a month. The gas in Santa Ana is the cheapest, hottest and cleanest burning gas that I ever used, and I once lived in a so-called gas country, too.

"I paid 65 cents a pound for butter last winter.

"Electricity is cheaper. In fact, everything is cheaper here except meat and ice cream.

"Before I left Indiana, my friends told me that I would never be able to pay the enormous rents and living costs in Santa Ana unless I was a millionaire. Why, rent is much less here than where I lived, and so are all the other living costs.

"I feel like kicking myself hard for not coming to Santa Ana ten years ago."

He has joined partnership with Roy Hupp, former local druggist, and the pair will open the South Main pharmacy at Bishop and Main streets next Sunday. A modern refreshment fountain will be a feature of the new store.

NORTHWEST TO BERESIDENCE AREA, VIEW

"Up in the northwestern part of Santa Ana, a statement issued by the Northwest Improvement Committee says, a section virtually untouched by the subdividers, lies a beautiful close in, tree-covered section awaiting the home builder. This is a high well-drained district with some of the best garden soil in Orange county.

"There is now new cement paving and more is being laid or under proceedings on practically every street in that section. Seventeenth street is now being paved and when completed will make one of the longest straight thoroughfares in Orange county, extending as it does from the very mountains to San Pedro Harbor. Bristol street is now under proceedings to be paved from the end of the present pavement north to the city limits and ultimately on to the county hospital to connect with the Anaheim and Placentia boulevards. It has also been suggested by W. B. Williams of the planning commission that Bristol be extended south from Edinger street to Newport harbor.

"As suggested by a committee of the West-Northwest Improvement and Development association, the opening of these two streets will bring to the front one of the very finest residence sections of the city and one that is likely to have a phenomenal growth lying as it does on the side of the city towards the dense population of Southern California and of our own Orange county.

"The heavy traveled roads from Santa Ana is to the northwest, to Anaheim, Fullerton, Placentia, Long Beach, and Los Angeles. Population follows the lines of heavy traffic. Look at your map and think for yourself what will happen when these two main arteries are open. Watch the northwest."

Would Foreclose On Mechanic Lien

An action to foreclose a mechanic's lien, one of several that have been brought in the superior court here recently in connection with the same property, was on file today against Elizabeth Greenhow and E. B. Greenhow, owners of an apartment house at Huntington Beach.

Glenn S. Warner, the plaintiff, based the lien on a claim of $348.50 for labor and material used in construction of the building.

dustrial possibilities of Santa Ana are unlimited. Home advantages and general living conditions are unsurpassed anywhere, as may be proved by strangers who are constantly pouring into Santa Ana to become permanent citizens in the city whose future is destined and assured by nature.

In this manner, Santa Ana is continually drawing, as Harvey M. Porter, the well-known California orator, would say, "the best blood, intelligence and man power from every state in the union, never to return any of it, either principal or interest."

tions concerning the tentative plans favored by the committee.

Other Problems Considered
This committee will include F. L. Veatch, who has been assigned to work out plans for extending and otherwise improving Bristol street and to advise the proper time to present such recommendations to the city or county officials.

Similar improvement matters for Washington Avenue have been assigned to W. C. Childers; Seventeenth street has been assigned to Merle Ramsey, Ninth street to L. E. Martin; Artesia street to Guy Koons; Towner street to T. B. Elliott; Louise street to S. J. Duhardt, and Garden Grove road to W. H. English.

Reports on the plans for city development will be made at a meeting of the improvement association next Tuesday night at the council chambers of the city hall.

INSURANCE RATES CUT IS DESIRED

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 5.—A committee of business men of this city have been recently appointed by the merchants and chamber of commerce here to look into the matter of securing a reduction in the property insurance rates here, it was made known today.

Prominent among the men working for the reduction of the rates is C. D. Heartwell, local insurance man and pioneer resident of this city.

The reduction of gas rates, the proposed reduction of insurance rates, the many beautiful paved and lighted streets, and many other improvements, including a camp ground, day nursery on the beach, new city hall and auditorium, are being pointed to by the citizens of this town as sure signs of progress, and are also looked upon as a drawing card for home-seekers.

REALTOR CHIEF TELLS CITY'S ADVANTAGES

BY J. WILEY HARRIS

(President S. A. Board of Realtors)
Santa Ana, a city of more than 30,000 population, with unsurpassed schools, churches, banks and clubs, the metropolis and county seat of Orange county, supports gracefully the title it has adopted, "The substantial city".

Ten miles to the mountains; ten miles to the sea, and every acre of the combined twenty miles a mine of beauty and wealth. To the north and east solid gardens of Valencia oranges, Lemons, walnuts and avocados. To the south and west an "eye full" of beans, sugar beets, barley, alfalfa and corn with countless herds of the finest dairy and other stock.

The greatest Valencia center in America, the largest English walnut shipping point in the world, an income from some one of its diversified products every month in the year, and a climate of the Southern California kind, make Santa Ana the most desirable place to live.

With Newport harbor at her front door, and three transcontinental railroads furnishing transportation, what more substantial setting could we have? Come, tarry with us for a while, and you will remain or quickly return, to abide with us.

"As soon as the title began to be generally used by board members, outsiders discovered its value and attempted to appropriate it. When such infringement is attempted, a notice from the local secretary calling attention to the above decisions quickly puts a stop to it."

Between Success and Failure

Good authority says that you should have two income accounts.

An income from your labor (wages or salary).

An income from your savings (interest or dividends).

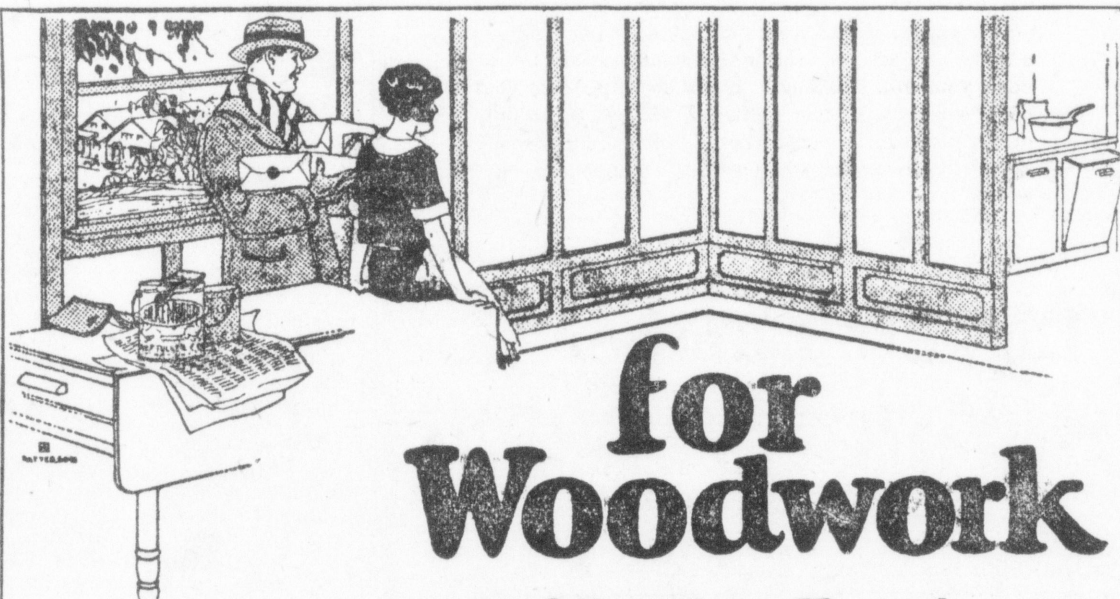

You have spent much time in preparing yourself to get a good salary. What have you done to prepare yourself to get good dividends? In time your wage or salary income may cease. Then the income from your investments must support you. You should use every effort today to make your savings such that they will stand the test.

You should combine systematic saving with wise investments to get the greatest power.

This association enables you to save systematically and also to invest wisely. It can assist you in solving your financial problems.

REASONS WHY CALIFORNIANS HAVE RIGHT TO BRAG TOLD BY S. A. MAN IN MAGAZINE

If there is anyone who thinks Californians do not have a right to brag about their state, that person surely would be converted to the idea that this partly developed state not only is the greatest in the nation at the present time but its assured future greatness is beyond comprehension, and such a belief is certain to result if the facts are consumed which were compiled by Freeman H. Bloodgood, Santa Ana realtor, for the June issue of the California Real Estate magazine.

A few of the "high-lights" in Bloodgood's article follow. "California—the state with a thousand miles of sea coast, an area greater than Japan, or Italy, or the British Isles, and nearly three times the size of Iowa (from which, or through which, most of us came), two mountain ranges that traverse the state from north to south, both veritable store-houses of water, mineral, timber, scenery and recreational joys; sixty-five varieties of soil producing 102 different food products for the table, a state capable of supporting 50,000,000 people in health, wealth and contentment."

"The population of California, 1900, was 1,485,053; in 1910 was 2,377,549; in 1920 was 3,426,861. The rate of increase of 1920 over 1910 was sixty-eight per cent. Taking that as a basis for the next four years, the population in 1924 is 4,358,967. It is easy to keep the white spot white," because ninety-five per cent of California people are of the white race.

Live On Own Farms. "Seventy-five per cent of the farmers of California live on and own their own farms."

Thirteen, or over one-fourth, of the fifty leading agricultural counties in the United States, for the year 1920, are in California.

"In agricultural crops alone, California ranked second in the United States in 1920 and 1921, being surpassed only by Texas, notwithstanding one-half the land area of California is under control of the federal government."

"California has over fifty mineral products, the total output for 1921 being estimated at $244,856,915."

"In crude oil, California, in 1920, produced 23.83 per cent of the output in the United States, or 15.21 per cent of the world's output."

"California leads in citrus fruits. In 1887, there were 2,312 carloads shipped. In 1921 there were 60,010 cars shipped. The total value of citrus fruit in Florida and California in 1921 was $63,550,000 of which $59,500,000 was produced in California."

"California produced thirty oranges each for every man, woman and child in the United States in 1921."

"California produced $1,981,205,000 worth of manufactured products in 1919. The growth to date, 1924, being over double that amount. Los Angeles alone produced $958,806,503 worth in 1922, with Oakland, San Francisco and other large cities increasing in large proportion."

"California leads all other states in mileage of paved state and county highways, the state alone having over 4,000 miles at an outlay of $73,000,000. The counties have contributed over $25,000,000 which, with the Federal government's aid of $15,000,000 distributed among several states, makes a grand total of over $100,000,000 expended for paved highways in California."

"The cities of California have expended more than $100,000,000 for paved streets during the last twenty years."

"The value of all property is over $5,000,000,000, assessed value, or $20,000,000,000 real value, or $5,000 per capita."

"A mild climate permits factory construction at low costs, since no provision need be made for cold weather and hence no $40,000.00 steam plants nor furnaces to eat up $10.00 coal."

"The chief element in successful industrial progress is dependent upon good labor conditions. In California these conditions are ideal. Good air, good food, refreshing sleep, happy children, a home of your own, with flowers and garden the year around, paved highways to and from work in one's own auto (everybody has one, for there is one auto to every family in California), and recreational joys in mountains, valleys, hills, lakes and balmy ocean frontage for all."

School Enrollment Large. "California has the largest ratio of high school enrollment in the world."

"California pays double the average wages paid teachers in the United States."

"There are eight high type state normal schools."

"The state university has the largest enrollment of state universities on earth."

"Virtually all land in California is in some high school district."

Free buses carry pupils to and from school.

Free text-books, for all grades; and for high schools are optional with boards of education."

"California leads the world in electric light and power development and home conveniences."

Allenburh has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiable and where the patient was helpless.

Is Santa Ana Advantageously Located To Attract Industries?

Well, rather!

Have you ever been in one of those Eastern manufacturing cities where it takes 15 Tons of Coal, a winter, to heat the home, and when summer comes you have to sleep in an Ice Pack?

Did it ever occur to you that a factory must be heated and it Costs Real Money? And do you suppose that working people would enjoy a comfortable sleep after a hard day's work?

Do you realize that it is not any further from Santa Ana to New York than from New York to Santa Ana and that any amount of New York products are sold in Santa Ana? Do you know that Santa Ana is nearer to a larger portion of the world's population than New York is?

With all this, a young giant consumer has arisen at our very door in Los Angeles. More raw materials are to be found in Southern California than you have any idea of. I refer you to the recent industrial survey by the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce.

We have railway facilities, a commerce harbor 24 miles away and one in the making at our front door.

Have you been down to see the Standard American Glass Company site—South Main to St. Andrew's Place, East to Lloyd Park—now building.

FALSE Economy vs. TRUE Economy

TO put off doing a certain thing until some future time just because it will cost you a little ready cash at the present time, in face of the fact it will cost you double the amount to do the same thing at some future time is FALSE ECONOMY.

TRUE ECONOMY, is "a stitch in time saves nine." In other words by painting your house now, one coat will probably do but if you put it off a year it will take two coats to make a job.

The best paint is the cheapest and especially so if it is made by us.

NEW WILD CAT WELL DOWN 355 FEET

Development Co. Seeks to Get 'Black Gold' on Lease at Orange

ORANGE, June 5.—Having been spudded in last week, the wildcat well being drilled by the Trustees Development association on the J. Mueller lease near Fairhaven avenue was down 355 feet today, according to Lyman C. Hisey, drilling superintendent.

The work has proceeded under difficulties, occasioning considerable delay, Hisey said, declaring that the hole should be down at least 1500 feet by now. Boiler trouble has been the chief worry, but this difficulty is being rapidly adjusted and it is expected that drilling will progress speedily from now on.

Three shifts are employed on the well, keeping operations going continually. The hole is being made with rotary equipment, but the rig is sufficiently tall to permit the use of standard tools should the occasion demand.

Unless "black gold" is struck prior to that depth, the well will be drilled to 3000 feet before it is abandoned, Hisey announced. The association, organized by a syndicate of prominent Los Angeles, Pasadena and Hollywood business men, is fully financed and will operate as a closed concern with no stock being offered on the market.

Approximately the first test hole, an oil well, is being drilled. It is expected that favorable showings are encountered the association is understood to be prepared to carry on further development work in the new field. In addition to the Mueller lease, the company is understood to have signed other extensive holdings in the vicinity, including many of the surrounding ranches of Grand avenue and Fairhaven avenue.

The territory, which recently played a part in the famous "oil pool" court fight in Los Angeles, has been pronounced favorable for oil by Irving Auger, formerly with the state mining bureau, according to Hisey. Auger, who has studied the geological phases of the field, has been engaged as consulting engineer by the association.

PASSKEY BURGLAR RANSACKS HOUSE

FULLERTON, June 5.—No trace has been found of the "passkey" burglar who ransacked the home of Harry Felling, 615 East Commonwealth avenue, Monday night. The burglary was not discovered until late Tuesday afternoon when Mr. Felling returned to his home.

The Fellings moved to their home at Balboa Beach Sunday. On Monday Mr. Felling visited the Fullerton residence and found nothing out of place. Monday night he rejoined his family at the beach. Tuesday he returned to this city and late in the afternoon visited his home.

He found that a burglar had entered the house and emptied the contents of every bureau drawer in the house and all the clothes closets on the floor and had even dismantled the beds in his search for valuables.

A quantity of clothing was taken, according to Mr. Felling, but he could not supply an accurate list of articles stolen until he had checked the contents of both the Fullerton home and the beach residence of the family, he told the police.

Wireless licenses in England now numbers nearly 600,000. Salt, added to snow, gives it an even lower temperature.

THAT ADVERTISING MAN WITH THE REGISTER

he's some fellow, whether you know him or not. He's been in here three times already this week telling me I ought to get in my ad copy. Then when I start to write my ad—I get to thinking about that man—and, say, he's some fellow—whether you know him or not.

You know, years ago when we fellows used to play football against Drake University, this ad man for the Register was old Drake's coach—but that was some time ago. Any way, when I want to write an ad, I just can't get my mind off this football stuff; and, instead of attempting to tell Santa Anans about what good feed and seed and poultry supplies we sell—I just hear the old college yell—"Down on the ground—yoo lobsters," "Hit the line boys," "Fight Ames fight" and above all "Drake-Quack-Quack." You see when we were playing Drake we had that quack yell because a male duck isn't supposed to be overly fast on his feet. And all during the four quarters of a hot game—where do you suppose that little Register ad man was. Well, now, believe me fellows, HE WAS THERE—for he's some fellow whether you know him or not.

So here it is time for me to get another ad out telling you about the best feed and seed store in Southern California—but with my mind on football and this Register ad man I just can't, for the life of me, see whether it makes much difference whether I sell anything or not.

Let's have a silent toast on this ad man, for he brings back to us, like fresh air—memories of good, clean, exhilarating sport; and because he, like lots of other fellows here in Santa Ana of the same type, is some fellow whether you know him or not.

LOOKING FOR WIFE? THEN WEAR ROSE IS ADVICE TO BACHELORS OF FULLERTON

FULLERTON, June 5.—"If you are a bachelor and want to find a wife—wear a rose."

"If you are married and wish to keep your spouse—wear a carnation."

"If you want to borrow money; stave off your creditors; make a success of your business—wear a flower."

Above are a few extracts from a striking talk given before the Rotary club by John Hamilton Curtis, lecturer, on the subject: "Practical Psychology as Applied to Every Day Business Problems."

Despite the rather high sounding title of the address as announced it proved to be the essence of simplicity. It can be epitomized as: "Wear a Flower."

"You never see a man with a crutch wearing a flower," he commented. "If you just don't go together. If you are feeling blue, wear a rose."

"Worry is merely a mixture of fear and indecision. You ponder over something, get yourself all perplexed. Settle the knotty point, decide what you are going to do and your worry disappears right away, if you are wearing a flower.

"Wear a flower when you are grieving. Despondency and despair soon vanish if you can only get your thought fixed on the fact that the rose thrives without worrying. It gets along all right. It fulfills its rest regularly during its brief tenure of existence and then passes on."

"A flower is a panacea for all ills, declared the speaker. It will cure a man of ill temper, of indigestion, insomnia and all other ailments of the flesh. It helps him to develop poise and to see the bright side of life."

A rose will help a man in his business, whether he be a butcher, a baker or a banker. It will draw customers to his store, it will make them place larger and better orders Curtis said.

NOTED FATHER
MISSION

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, June 5.—The Rev. Father Zephyr Engelhardt, of Santa Barbara, noted mission historian, has been a visitor at the San Juan Capistrano mission.

Not only has Father Engelhardt been enjoying a few days with his friend, the Rev. St. John O'Sullivan, priest in charge of the mission, but he has been using some of the documents at this mission for checking up historical data to be used in a history of the Franciscan mission at San Francisco—the Mission Dolores.

Father Engelhardt is one of the most interesting figures in the ranks of the priests serving the Catholic church in the West. He has written a number of important histories, most of them having to do with the history of the Catholic church in the Southwest. For some time he has been engaged in writing histories of the individual missions. Among those completed by him is that of San Juan Capistrano.

In the preparation of that work he had the cooperation of Father O'Sullivan, who is in charge of the restoration of the mission here.

CHEST PLAN AT FULLERTON IS URGED

FULLERTON, June 5.—Mayor Harry H. Crooke announced that the meeting of the city trustees that he had appointed a committee of twelve citizens for further investigation of the possibilities of this city adopting the community chest plan.

The committee appointed by Mayor Crooke is Robert Straff, chairman, Waldo O'Kelly, R. S. Gregory, E. J. Marks, S. W. Smith, Howard Kraus, Miss Nanette Moore, Mrs. Lottie Morse, Mrs. Fred West, Miss Lillian Yeager, Mrs. William Starbuck and Miss Minnie Maxwell.

This committee will visit cities that are operating under the community chest plan and interview the boards of directors of the organizations. The system of organization will be outlined to them and they will investigate the advantages of the plan over the system now in vogue in this and practically all other Southern California towns of raising funds for the various charitable and civic works through the conduct of drives.

Under the community chest plan all civic and charitable organizations appoint committees to meet and a general committee to prepare a budget at the beginning of each year. This budget is made the basis for one fund drive during the year.

The money secured through this drive will be divided among the organizations and disbursed through a board of directors to be elected from among the membership of the organizations represented in the Community Chest.

It is said that the Community chest plan has proven successful in Pasadena and other communities where it has been adopted. Mayor Crooke said last night that he has been informed that Pomona has recently adopted the plan. The committee appointed last night will conduct an investigation of the position and make recommendations regarding it as soon as possible.

GAS CONSERVATION BRINGS RATE CUT

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 5.—Direct results are now being obtained and realized from the new six inch welded gas main ordered installed by the board of trustees about eighteen months ago. It was revealed here today that it became known that the saving in gas leakage from the old pipe by the new pipe has made it possible for the gas rates to be reduced twenty per cent within sixty days.

An ordinance changing the gas rate is being prepared at the present time by City Attorney L. W. Blodgett. Although no definite statements have been made it is believed that further reduction of the gas rates may be possible in the future.

The gas line when installed, was recommended to the city trustees to save enough gas by non-leakage over the old gas line to pay for itself within a period of about fourteen months.

The installation of the pipe and the reduction of the gas rates were recommended to the board of trustees by City Clerk and Gas Superintendent William Wright, it was announced by members of the city council here today, who declared that they were well pleased with the manner in which the affair had worked out and hoped that many more people in the city would see fit to begin using city gas from the local oil field and gas wells. As far as is known at the present time this is the first drop in gas prices in Southern California during the past several months.

Orange Students Registering Today

ORANGE, June 5.—Registration of the Orange high school students took place at that school today. Many students changed their courses and plans on account of the new requirements for graduation that have been made.

Up to this time only sixteen units have been required for graduation from the Orange high school, but from now on seventeen credits will be required.

All students will be required to take English I and II as before, but to complete the English major, English III or IV must be taken. Drama, journalism, public speaking, business English, oral expression, and such subjects will continue to be full credit subjects, but they will not count in an English major. Only students having recommended grades in English or the special consent of the instructor will be allowed to be a member of the journalism class.

Another new requirement is that neither General Science nor biology will be recognized as the one required laboratory science. Biology, however, is still counted as a part of a science major and is recognized by the universities, although it is no longer sufficient as a graduation science.

Students who desire to take organic next year must have had "Music II" or be taking it at the time. Good grades in other subjects must be had before students may take this course.

One week of mechanical drawing will be required of any students taking shop work.

As before there will be two drama classes, but a few new requirements have been made concerning this subject, too. Only Juniors who have made recommended grades in English I, II will be allowed to take Drama I. Seniors who have had three years of English may take Drama II.

The bookkeeping class will be open to upper classmen and Sophomores only, while business arithmetic will be a freshman subject as usual.

A full unit, made up of four years, of physical training will be required of all students, except in cases where a physician's excuse is obtained.

It is very probable that two years of mathematics will be required, but this requirement will not apply to the present Juniors.

Cox, who set the preliminary hearing for July 11, at 2 p. m. Bail was fixed at $1000, which Berry could not supply.

Gunshot wounds received by Berry, it was said, when Chase was aroused by an electric buzzer connected with his chicken corrals and fired at a dark form he saw in the yard, led to his arrest. Forced to seek medical treatment for his wounds, Berry fell into the hands of the law.

He would not confess, however, until placed in solitary confinement at the county jail, the authorities said.

Fourth Stock
Sale Arrest
Is Made

Implicated in asserted stock sales of the Pacific corporation, Max B. Bonar, 24, of Los Angeles, was today added to the group of defendants now being prosecuted here on charges of selling oil stock without a permit.

The official investigation, which began with the arrest of Jack Gaines and Benjamin S. Brubaker, Orange business men, emmeshed Bonar late yesterday, when he was apprehended by Ed McClellan, chief criminal deputy sheriff.

Bonar's bail was fixed by Justice J. B. Cox at $500, but he was released on his own recognizance until today, when bail was scheduled to be posted.

Five defendants have been charged, thus far, with selling stock of the Pacific corporation, at Signal Hill, and Bonar is the fourth apprehended. Gaines, a realty broker; Brubaker, bank teller and assistant secretary of the oil company, and Mrs. Mollie Meenecke, associated with Gaines, were the others arrested. All but Gaines are now at liberty under bail.

POLICE FUND CREATED AT FULLERTON

FULLERTON, June 5.—When the budget for the next fiscal year is prepared there will be an item of $500 to be set aside for the police department. This item will be known as the detective and contingency fund and can be expended by the city marshal after conferring with the city manager and city attorney.

This fund is set aside at the request of the police committee to enable the police department to improve the protection of property in this city. It will provide a fund for the city marshal to use when it is considered necessary to employ outside detectives to aid the local department.

In asking for the fund, Trustee W. J. Carmichael, who is chairman of the police committee, said: "This fund should be set aside for use of the city marshal in employing detectives and for any other contingency that might arise for the better protection of lives and property. There are times in every city when it is necessary for the city marshal to employ outside detectives without the fact being known to anyone save the city marshal."

In the past the city has had a fund of $100 for use of the police department but this was inadequate in the opinion of Trustee Carmichael and Trustee O. M. Thompson, the other member of the police committee.

Other suggestions for the improvement of the police department were adopted as follows:

The city marshal will appoint a desk sergeant to be on duty at the police station at all times. The marshal will wear a uniform while on official business and will spend more time on the outside directing the work of police officers.

A map will be prepared by the city marshal showing the location of all police signal lights now in operation with the location of tentative lights marked. This map will be available to all members of the department.

The city manager will secure data regarding the installation of several telephones in the business and residence sections of the city. These telephones to be for the exclusive use of the police department. If installed patrolmen will be required to report to the desk sergeant at regular intervals during their time on duty.

LIONS SECRETARY RESIGNS POSITION

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 5.—The resignation of Frank Swann as secretary of the local Lions club and the election of H. S. Hancock to the position of treasurer marked the regular meeting of the local Lions club here yesterday afternoon.

The Lions are awaiting word from the result of the contest of attendance which has been carried on during the past few weeks. As far as is known the local club should be awarded the first prize as every meeting has been 100 per cent.

B. F. McDonald, manager of the E. D. Bullard company of Los Angeles, was the speaker of the day. McDonald spoke on the subject of "Artificial Respiration," dealing with drowning cases. He demonstrated his points by the help of several of the local Lions.

Sol White and H. S. Hancock were the chairmen of the day at the meeting and supplied a fine musical program after the luncheon. Solos were given by Miss Lucille Harrell, Dr. Ralph E. Hawes, and Fred Wild of Santa Ana.

PIER FISHING AT BEACH EXCELLENT

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 5.—One of the largest crowds of the year was seen yesterday on the local pier fishing. Many fine fish were landed, including several good catches of herring, some large spot fin, yellow fin, and bass with several good halibut also landed.

Harvey Walker is now leading the list in line for the reel offered by E. L. Curtis for the largest number of the surf fish family which includes spot fin, yellow fin, and corbina fish. Walker landed a five pound ten ounce spot fin from the end of the pier yesterday afternoon and brought in the mate to it weighing five pounds and two ounces.

Before the catching of the large fish by Walker three fishermen were tied for the reel, each having caught a fish weighing four pounds and ten ounces. The men in the tie were C. E. McNeal, Clyde Estep and Harvey Walker.

Fishing from the local pier during the past week has been of the best, according to Curtis, proprietor of the fishing tackle stand at the end of the pier. Many girls and children were fishing from the pier yesterday and several of them demonstrated that they could be as good fishermen as the men by landing some nice fish. Some sea trout have also been on the list of fish caught during the past few days.

YANKEE TENNIS TEAM HURT BY NEW RULING

Foreign Players May Take Olympic Titles As Big U. S. Stars Inactive

NEW YORK, June 5.—America would run away with the Olympic tennis championship with a team composed of Bill Tilden, Vinnie Richards, Dick Williams, Watson Washburn, Frank Hunter and the Kinsey brothers. These players were selected by the United States Lawn Tennis association as members of the team, but they will not be able to play because of the rule passed by the Olympic committee that no athletes on the team can act as newspaper correspondents.

Hunter is a newspaper editor and Tilden, Richards and the Kinseys are contributors to newspapers. Dick Williams, although it had not been announced officially, may resign from the team for the reason that he can't get away from business. Bill Johnston, the little California star, let it be known long ago that he could not go to Paris for the same reason.

Unless the Olympic committee relents or unless the athletes who have been earning money with their typewriters give in, Uncle Sam will have a very weak tennis team at the games instead of a combination that would be invincible against anything in the world.

"Business reasons" may be a big handicap to the organization of the big Olympic team. Dick Leonard, figured for a point or two in the high jump, has announced that he will not be a candidate for the team, and Joe Pearson, one of the best walkers in the country, will not seek a place on the team because he can't get away from his business. The American hockey team was not representative of the full strength of the country, because several star players could not make the trip.

Some day in the near future it is practically certain that the idea of the Swedes that athletes are entitled to be compensated for the time they lose from their business will not be frowned on now as such a terrible affront at the spirit of pure amateurism.

Effect of the ruling of the tennis association that players could not retain their amateur standing if they continue to write for compensation after Jan. 1, 1925, was eagerly awaited by the association from foreign countries. Australia was the first to register an impression and it was a very wise one. The Australian association voted that their players who came to the United States to play in the Davis Cup matches this summer could write for newspapers, provided their copy was sent home by mail and not transmitted by cable. That was a very smart way of stopping what might be regarded as a necessary evil.

San Pedro Man in Justice Court Is Given Light Fine

ORANGE, June 5.—When Justice G. W. Ingle's court opened yesterday S. M. Flannery, San Pedro, who was charged with having liquor in his automobile, was the first to appear. Accompanied by his wife and child, Flannery answered the court summons, pleading guilty to the charge and receiving a $25 fine.

"It's dangerous enough to drive a car while sober these days, and I can't understand why a man should endanger the lives of his wife and child by taking liquor along," the court admonished. "I hope this will be a lesson to you, that you will never repeat the offense again."

"If you must drink," the court continued, "go out in some orange grove, but don't let gasoline and whiskey mix on the boulevard—it's too dangerous."

Flannery, with his wife and child, was intercepted on East Chapman avenue by Motor Officer Peterkin Memorial day. When the machine was searched, a milk bottle containing wine was brought to light.

PURSE DEMANDS CAUSE SLUMP IN BOXING

Rival Promoters Get Hold On Ball Parks But Tex Controls Contenders

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, June 5.—Great difficulty being experienced by the promoters in getting champion boxers and outstanding title contenders to accept matches that would make it possible to meet their exorbitant purse demands, leads to the conviction that the 1924 outdoor season will be as drab as last year's was sparkling.

At this time last year the Milk Fund heavyweight show had been staged in New York, and Jess Willard and Luis Firpo, the survivors from last year's match, were scheduled to meet in Jersey City on July 12.

Jack Dempsey and Tommy Gibbons had been matched to meet in Shelby on July 4. Pancho Villa and Jimmy Wilde had been matched for the flyweight championship. Kibane had lost his title to Eugene Ciriqli, and the Frenchman had been matched with Johnny Dundee for the title. Benny Leonard had been matched with Lew Teller for the lightweight championship, and the Harry Greb-Johnny Wilson middleweight championship was in the making.

Boxers Blamed
This year the only outstanding match that has been even suggested up to this time has been the Dempsey-Wills heavyweight championship bout for September, and Dempsey had not accepted terms.

Promoters blame the slump in business on the boxers, and the promoters are held to be responsible by the boxers. Politics and petty fighting between the promoters also has discouraged the game in New York.

Tex Rickard's rivals succeeded in driving him out of New York by beating him to the prize at the two ball parks. Rickard, however, has an ace in the hole in the possession of the Jersey City stadium and in an understanding with most of the boxers that are needed to make a big match.

Rickard's big situation, has the heavyweight situation "sewed" up through a contract with Harry Wills and first call upon the services of Jack Dempsey, Tom Gibbons and Jack Renault. Firpo, of course, has pulled away from Rickard, but if Firpo fights he will have to fight for Rickard as he couldn't get a match with any heavyweight who is not under actual obligations to Rickard.

To get a big shot, heavyweights have to accept the opponents that promoters pick for them, but the champions and the headliners in the lighter classes not only want tremendous purses, but they want to meet opponents that will not place them in peril of losing their titles.

One of the "naturals" in prospect is a welterweight championship bout between Mickey Walker, the title holder, and Benny Leonard, the lightweight champion. So many difficulties have been encountered in the making of this match that it is probable it never will be staged.

Leonard wants $150,000 for his end, and he also wants a look at Walker's contract to see that the welterweight champion does not get away with more than he does. Leonard, like several other champions, is not content to get all he can from the promoters, but he does not want his opponents to make any real money off him.

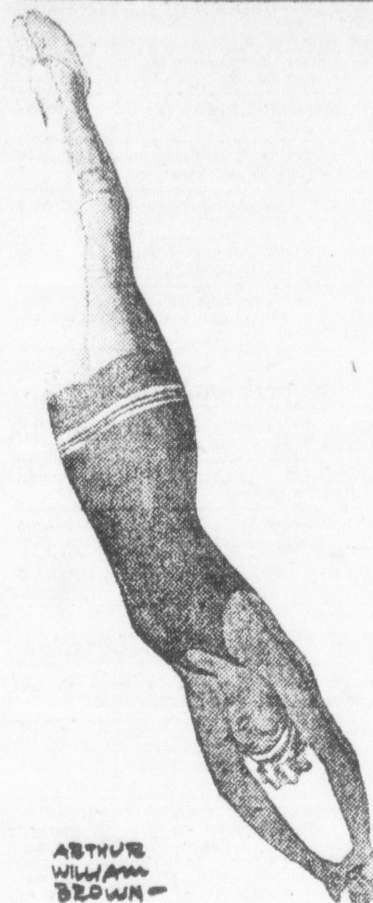

Fights and Fighters

NEW YORK—Sid Barbarian, Detroit lightweight, won a 12-round decision from Jack Bernstein, New York.

NEW YORK—Gene Tunney, American light heavyweight champion, will accept an offer to meet Tommy Gibbons, according to an announcement by Billy Gibson, his manager.

BOSTON—Jock Malone, St. Paul middleweight and Frank Moody, England, have been matched to meet in a ten round bout here June 13.

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind.—Georges Carpenter and Jack Curley, his American representative, have closed their camp here and gone to Curley's home at Great Neck, L. I., New York. Georges is still nursing his sprained ankle.

Know this thrill

DO you dive? Nothing else can afford you that exhilaration of motion—that momentary freedom from gravity—which divers know.

And nothing else can give ease of diving movement and absolute confidence like a Jantzen!

The Jantzen keeps its perfect-fit—doesn't bind or sag. The patented bow-trunk and non-rip crotch insure plenty of room for action, without straining its all-wool fabric.

This year's Jantzens are smart in appearance; the 1924 colors in men's women's and children's suits are distinctive—striking.

THE VALUE OF QUALITY

In his famous column, "Today," Arthur Brisbane makes quite a point of the fact that the public is willing to pay for quality in a newspaper as well as in any other commodity or service. He pointed out that the Chicago American leads the Chicago Daily News in circulation by about 70,000 copies daily, and sells at three cents daily and five cents on Saturday, whereas the Daily News sells at two cents every day. This shows, Mr. Brisbane incontrovertibly claims, that for quality the public is willing to share with the merchant and other advertisers the enormous cost of getting out a newspaper.

Right here in Santa Ana we had an even more striking illustration of the fact that newspaper readers appreciate and are willing to pay for quality.

When, in October, 1920, the Santa Ana Daily News and Los Angeles Express combined were offered to the newspaper readers of Santa Ana for 40 cents per month, The Register alone was selling for 60 cents per month. At that time The Register had a circulation of a little over 7000. For over two years the News and Express fought furiously for circulation in this field at 40 cents per month for both papers, without success—indeed with utter failure. Meantime The Register, at 60 cents, gained continuously and consistently in circulation and advertising. At the time the News and Express gave up the fight and abandoned the field, The Register's circulation was over 9000—a gain of over 2000 during the period of competition,—while that of the News and Express was at such low ebb that the publishers abandoned the field as hopeless.

The Register has always shaped its policies on the belief that newspaper readers are willing to pay for quality, that they should share with the advertisers and the publishers in equitable proportion, the ever-increasing cost of production. And we have always found them willing to do so.

It begins to look like an adequate assortment of tickets to vote for in November.

ITSELF AMENDS THE LAW

An interesting bit of telegraphic news from Sacramento was published in The Register yesterday:

SACRAMENTO, Calif., June 5.—Twenty-five plain clothes men have been appointed by Will H. Marsh, superintendent of the state motor vehicle department to aid state highway patrolmen in arresting speeders and other offenders.

The traffic detectives will operate "incognito" and will have full authority to make arrests.

This is interesting because it shows that the State Motor Vehicle department has officially decided to ignore the measure made into law by the last legislature. We refer to the provision in the motor vehicle act to the effect that courts shall not accept evidence gathered by speed traps and to the effect that motorcycle officers gathering evidence in cases involving motorists' violations of the traffic laws shall be in distinctive uniform, SO THAT THE MOTORIST MAY HAVE A CHANCE TO QUIT BREAKING THE LAW BEFORE THE OFFICER SEES HIM. The words in capital letters are ours. They don't actually appear in the law.

From the first, Orange county authorities have maintained that abolition of the speed trap was not only a mistake but also illegal. The question of operation in uniform has not been productive of quite so much discussion here as has the provision concerning the abandonment of speed trap evidence. However, doing away with speed trap evidence in the prosecution of a lawbreaker is no more illogical or defensible than is doing away with evidence gathered by an officer not in uniform. The State Motor Vehicle department has decided to overlook the law against the wearing of plain clothes in gathering evidence against a sacred motorist who breaks the law. Perhaps it will soon decide that this same sacred motorist should no longer be immune from prosecution by the best obtainable evidence, which is the evidence of the speed trap.

When Congress adjourns, Congress and country will be equally relieved.

MUSICAL PROGRESS

Paderewski should be a good judge of the musical culture of any nation. In an interview in Paris, since he left America, he speaks of musical progress in this country in a way that should please every good American.

"I have had long experience of America," he says, "and when I contrast my first experiences with my more recent, I am struck with the quickness with which musical education has spread throughout the United States. Where there were hundreds 20 years ago who would go to listen to classical music, there are now many thousands, men and women, who both understand and appreciate."

It goes farther than mere passing appreciation, says the great pianist. He makes no prophecies of an outburst of musical genius here, but says that "in execution Americans are going very far ahead, and very quickly."

This testimony is the more assuring because Paderewski is not obliged, in Paris, to say fine things about America. Any observing person is likely to corroborate his views. The advance in musical education and enjoyment in this country in the last 20 years is amazing, and it is more rapid today than ever before.

The farmer's present problem is to make two prices grow where one grew before.

ECONOMY AND PEACE

Herriot, who succeeds Poincare as French premier, demands a "reduction of military costs by cutting down expenses and shortening the term of military service."

This is getting somewhere. France has more than doubled its indebtedness since the armistice. Its maintenance of great land and air forces, along with the reconstruction work has been a grievous burden on France and a menace to the peace of Europe. And when the French militarists were not running the country further into debt for French armament, they were lending hundreds of millions to small European allies to spend in armament.

All that was in expectation of immense reparation payments from Germany, as well as defense against Germany. But it is becoming plain to the French people themselves, as it has been for some time to the outside world, that the danger from beaten Germany and the possibility of recovering any great amount of reparation have both been exaggerated.

The Herriot policy seems calculated not only to save France money immediately but, through its new note of conciliation and reasonableness, to prevent the need of immense armament hereafter to defend France against a desperate Germany bent on revenge.

Such a policy, originating in France where it was most needed, should benefit all the world. Military economy and conciliation naturally go hand in hand, anyhow.

NATIONAL SPORTSMANSHIP

The American naval hero, John Paul Jones, might be surprised if he could see, from his sailor's heaven, the use to which the latest American warship named after him has been put.

The destroyer John Paul Jones left a Japanese port the other day, after a hurried call and a forced run, with a spare airplane belonging to the British aviator, MacLaren, who wrecked his original plane in Burma. Reaching Hongkong, the destroyer will turn the plane over to another American destroyer, which will rush it to India to enable the Briton to continue his flight.

The American warships are rendering this service because there were no fast British craft in the vicinity, available for the purpose.

Such a voluntary service on the part of the United States navy, to help a British airman in his efforts to beat the American flyers around the world, is surely a fine specimen of sportsmanship, to which the famous John Paul himself would hardly object.

Individual sportsmen do that sort of thing right along. Why should not a nation be as sportsmanlike as an individual?

An astonishing instance of taxicab courtesy was observed at the corner of Third and Broadway yesterday. A taxi driver, coming east on Broadway to the intersection, signalled for a left-hand turn. At the same time, a pedestrian walked calmly from the very center of the intersection toward the sidewalk. He was right in the taxi's path; but instead of charging madly at him, with much blatting of the horn—as is the manner of taxis, usually—the cab driver jammed on his brakes, stopped short, and motioned the pedestrian to proceed. Lest this be taken for an announcement of the millennium, however, we should add that the pedestrian was a policeman.—San Diego Union.

Proposes Weight Tax

For the further financing of state highway construction, rather than an additional cent on the present two-cent gasoline tax, the state superintendent of motor vehicles favors a weight tax of so much per 100 pounds on all motor vehicles, irrespective of kind, weight or use.

We do not believe this is a sound proposal, for the reason that a weight tax, like a gasoline tax, should bear some relation to the wear and tear on highways, to be just and equitable. For instance, 100 pounds of motor vehicle on highways than the same 100 pounds carried on pneumatic tires. Again, the commercial truck, with its heavy load of freight, is much harder on highways than the pleasure automobile.

The gasoline tax is much more equitable, but if a three-cent tax appears to be more than the traffic will stand, then a tax on a weight basis as a substitute for the present nominal motor vehicle license fee, will be fair providing motor vehicles are classified as to equipment and use, and taxed accordingly.

This newspaper has heretofore held that in view of the fact that the present highways were originally built with state bonds, that the system should in fairness be completed with funds similarly secured, especially as the principle and interest on state bonds comes from state taxpayers under our division of state and local taxation. The state taxpayers are the railroads, public utilities, corporations, banks, etc. Their taxes are spread in their rates for service thereby reaching many individuals indirectly who pay no other taxes because they own neither real or personal property. It seemed to us that as the balance of the state highways system will cost over $200,000,000 to complete, it would be unfair to saddle all this cost on the users of motor vehicles.

However, with the increase of motor vehicle registration to a point where there is one car for every three people in the state of California, the element of unfairness is rapidly disappearing. Perhaps some combination of bonds, gas tax and weight tax may be worked out in the financing of the completion of the state system, whereby the spread of the cost will be made entirely equitable.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton. M. D.

YOUR MOST IMPORTANT ORGAN
There have been many arguments about which is the most important organ in the body.

One will maintain that the brain is the most important because it guides everything we do, whether those movements are conscious movements such as breathing, or the beating of the heart, an unconscious movement. This is true, of course.

Another will argue that the kidneys are the most important as they separate out harmful substances from the blood, which if retained would cause death in a short time. And still another will consider the heart the most important because it is the force behind the flow of blood throughout the body, thus maintaining the tissues and supplying the organs with materials from which to make the juices that are absolutely essential to life.

Now you have to get along with the brain, kidneys, and heart with which you were born. You keep your brain busy trying to make a living. Your kidneys look after themselves pretty well, unless you eat too much. What about your heart? Did you ever realize that the one pump your heart gives each few ounces of blood seventy to eighty times a minute, has to send that blood all the way around your body and back again.

Just as the blood leaves the heart it enters the huge arteries with their elastic walls. These walls allow the blood to distend them. When these walls come back to normal again they push the blood forward.

This is of course some help to the heart, and about all it gets. This push out of blood from the heart is what you feel when you put your fingers on the "pulse" at the wrist. The further away from the heart the blood is travelling the less powerful is the pulse or beat that you can feel.

And what about the blood coming back? Does it draw the blood back by suction? Not by any means. The blood has to travel all the way back through the veins just by the power it receives with its first push out. The blood, because they do not push it back, but with valves that prevent the blood flowing back, as it might otherwise do.

And so when I suggest that you take a few minutes' exercise daily such as a walk, or a run at a slow pace, you can see that by strengthening up your heart muscles you are strengthening up your most vital organ. There's no other way of doing it. You may not be able to do much for your brain by care. Your kidneys react to the kind of food you eat. But your heart—your most important organ—depends upon the actual activity of your body for its strength.

The Way to Everlasting Peace

FAREWELL TO NANCY

Ae fond kiss and then we sever!
Ae farewell, and then we ever!
Deep in heart-wrung tears I'll pledge thee;
Warring sighs and groans I'll wage thee.
Who shall say that Fortune grieves him,
While the star of hope she leaves him?
Me, nae cheerful twinkle lights me;
Dark despair around benights me.

I'll ne'er blame my partial fancy—
Naething could resist my Nancy;
But to see her was to love her,
Love but her and love for ever.
Had we never loved sae kindly,
Had we never loved sae blindly,
Never met—or never parted,
We had ne'er been broken-hearted.

Fare thee weel, thou first and fairest!
Fare thee weel, thou best and dearest!
Thine be ilka joy and treasure,
Peace, enjoyment, love, and pleasure!

Ae fond kiss, and then we sever!
Ae farewell, alas! for ever!
Deep in heart-wrung tears I'll pledge thee;
Warring sighs and groans I'll wage thee.

Worth While Verse

A MAY NIGHT MEMORY

The pale moonbeams from crystal chalcies
Stream through the golden blossomed tulip trees;
A bridal barge, with snow-white silken sails,
The creamy locust waves in gentle gales.

I thrill with warm pulsations of her breath,
An odor sweeter than a lilac wreath,
And spell-bound, like a bird within a snare,
I feel the fragrance of her loosened hair.

Her eyes are like wee blue birds that are mates,
Her hands like white doves at the pearly gates;
Her bosom, like a pure magnolia bloom,
Heaves in the dimness of enchanted gloom.

I know I only wander in a dream,
Yet haunted by her bygone beauties, seem
To faint from odors of her sweet, sweet breath,
As frail as buds in waxen hands of death.

Little Benny's Note Book

by Lee Pope

We was eating suppir last nite, being roast beef and different kinds of vegetables to eat with it, ma not eating much on account of trying to get thin by not eating things with calories in them, and after a while she sed, Well now, I've only had about 500 calories so far this meel, so I can either eat that last ear of corn or wats left of those buttered beets.

Good, go ahead and decide the burning question and I'll take the other one, pop sed.

Meaning the corn if ma took the beets and the beets if ma took the corn, and ma sed, Well, let me think.

No, action is wat I want, my appetite is calling reproachfully to me, pop sed.

I suppose I reely should take the beets, because theres about 500 calories in a pound of corn and only 200 in a pound of beets, ma sed.

That makes it easy, the path of dooty seems clear, pop sed.

Meaning for her to go ahead and take the beets, and ma sed, But then on the other hand I think the beets have more bulk to them, and that mite make it about even in case I decide on the corn.

One or the other now, go to it, you're dealing with a hungry man, pop sed.

Well, I think I'll take the beets after all, no, the corn, no, the beets, well let me see ma sed.

To settle the question I'll take them both, pop sed.

Which he did, and ma sed, Im glad you did that, because after all I like rice croquettes better than either corn or beets, so I'll have another rice croquette.

How many calories in rice, if I may ask a personal question? pop sed, and ma sed, Well, rice has a good meny, rice has 1600 calories to the pound, rice has.

Yee goos, pop sed, and ma sed, Well, you took the corn and the beets, so I feel perfectly justified. And she ate the rice croquette and looked glad of it.

Fairer Distribution

Riverside Press

The Methodist church at its quadrennial conference in Springfield, Mass., adopted a report of a committee on industry and social service, calling for a larger expenditure of wealth for the benefit of all the people as a right and to give it more general distribution.

Said the report: "Wealth accruing to the holders through monopoly values or special privileges, or through large opportunities for costless saving, is not earned. Wealth created by society should be devoted to the development of all the people in ways to be determined by the people themselves." Here we have the assertion of a broad principle, which has been asserted time and again since civilization began, but no hint as to practicable methods of bringing it into realization.

The communists, the socialists, the soviets, the proletarians, the single taxers, and many by other names, all agree that wealth is the common creation of mankind. Existing wealth is the residue of value created by the activities of all mankind since creation, after the maintenance of the people, the wastage by war and other means and the attrition of time have been deducted. Not a single item of all the world's wealth belongs to any person under the title of sole creation of it. Even one who sinks an oil well and gets the oil from the bowels of the earth, assuming that he could do it entirely by his own exertions, is debtor to his fellow men for whatever value it has. Without somebody to use it there would be no value. So it is with all property, even gold dollars.

In understanding of economics by the masses of the people, this fact has more acceptance now than ever before, but nobody now yet come to the front with a plan for equitable distribution of wealth which is workable and does not contain more evils in its eventualities than our present system. Throughout the ages there have grown up laws of possession, founded, of course, upon the primal law of might, that everything belongs to him who has the power to take and to keep, which is the fundamental thought in the Nietzsche philosophy which ruined the German nation. It is a bad, and unspiritual, and unreligious foundation. We are to be congratulated that we have built upon it as well as we have. But now that the common ownership of the results of common effort is making its way in the thought of the world as a rule of action, we are waiting for some definite plan of energizing it into being, which will give us a better state of society instead of a worse. Like Hamlet we stand before the mystery of the future and ponder "Whether to suffer the ills we have, or to flee to others we know not of." Yet it is for those who are under the present social system grasping a preponderant amount of the wealth created by all to be reminded at times by such resolutions, that the intellect and the conscience of the world are giving this matter attention.

Point of View

Pedigree is a matter in which mankind has been concerned from the very earliest times. In the Eastern civilizations it has been connected closely with religion, a man's ancestors being objects for veneration and worship. Although Western Europe has not instituted a deification of ancestry, its people have exhibited a pride in their forbears.

In England from medieval days a college of heralds has been actively employed in the work of tracing the individual's claim to blue blood and the right to sport a crest and arms. The Irish have gone even farther and a book has been compiled through which the O'Tools, the O'Briens, the McCards and other such may trace their ancestry through lines of kings back to an origin in Egypt.

There, according to this volume, the forbears of the Irish race were driven forth, having incurred the displeasure of Pharaoh through doing little kindnesses to Moses. Even in the United States, where men are supposed to think rather more of ascent than of descent, there exists societies whose members take no little pride in laying claim to an ancestor who held some sort of office in Colonial or Revolutionary days. Boston has been famous in history not only as the home of the bean and the cod but as the place where:

"Lowells speak only to Cabots, And Cabots speak only to God."

Soviet Russia, according to a dispatch from Leningrad, which we print today, has not escaped the cult of ancestry. Hereafter applicants seeking entry into the universities are to be examined carefully with reference to their forbears. The only difference is that the sine qua non of admission is to be red blood and not blue. The least taint of nobility or even of bourgeois lineage is to bar the applicant from admission. The peasantry alone is to be accepted. It is the old, old principle at work once more, although the point of view has been altered. The time may not be far distant when Russia will have a college of heralds to determine the right of a man to wear a hoe or a pruning hook on his escutcheon.—Baltimore Sun.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

NO. 21—WHAT THE RADIO DID

All the Green Woods people were dressed up in their Sunday best at Mister Coon's party.

It was a most fashionable party, and Nancy and Nick and the little fairymen were proud of the coon gentleman and his new radio set. Oh, yes, it was Mister Coon's new radio set that the party was about. Everybody had come to hear a concert.

"Ladies and gentlemen," said Mister Coon importantly, getting up in the middle of the floor where a little square box with a big horn was sitting on the table. "I will now tune in. We shall hear a concert that is going on in New York."

Everybody clapped and Mister Coon bowed and then he pushed in some knobs and pulled out some knobs and turned a thingamajigger.

"Whew! Whew! Whew! Squeeee—eee—eee—rattle—rattle—rattle! went the big horn, or rather, they were the sounds that came out of it."

"My!" said Mrs. Muskrat to Mrs. Groundhog. "They do have queer voices in New York, don't they, Mrs. Groundhog?"

"It isn't just right yet," said Mister Coon. "The air isn't right."

"I'd say it wasn't exactly right," grinned Mister Bunny nudging Old Daddy Cracknuts. "I've heard a good many airs but none exactly like that."

Mr. Coon pulled out some other knobs and pushed in some other knobs and the little lights went blink, and suddenly there was a shriek like the 9 o'clock curfew whistle.

"Oh, oh, oh!" shrieked the Green Wood ladies, covering up their ears. "That must be Grand Opera! Such loud singing makes us deaf. Do they always sing that way in New York, Mister Coon?"

Mister Coon blushed. "There is something wrong," he explained nervously. "Sometimes it's a little hard to make it work right."

The Twins and the fairymen tried to help him fix things. "I think it's all right now," said Nick. "Try to get some other place, Mister Coon."

"I will tune in on Chicago," said Mister Coon, "and we will hear a bedtime story."

"That's better," whispered Daddy Cracknuts. "It won't split our eardrums."

So Mister Coon pulled another handle and instantly a voice came out of the horn, saying, "Once upon a time a little—squeeee—squeeee—squeeee—squeeee—roar—roar—whirr—whooop—eee!"

"My goodness!" exclaimed Grandma Frog. "I should think that would wake up all the babies this side of Canada. That's a most remarkable bedtime story!"

"Yes, isn't it?" remarked Mrs. Chipmunk. "Oh, there! Listen, now."

The voice in the horn went on: "And one day he went to school and bang, whang, squeal, roar, shriek!" It finished with a wail.

"My, my! I'd hate to send my child to that school," said Mrs. Groundhog.

"It's very late and we'll have to be going," said Mrs. Bunny. "Good-night, Mister Coon. We've all had a nice time at your party!"

And out they went—all of them. But they hadn't any more than turned the corner when the radio began to behave itself beautifully. The Twins and the fairymen stayed and heard ten pieces played by a circus band.
